Dramatic Air-Sea Rescue Plucks 49 Of 58 From Waves

SHANNON, Ireland (AP)—Its fuel exhausted, an American four-engine air liner bellied into the Atlantic off the west coast of the Republic of Ireland in darkness early today. Nine of its 58 occupants were killed and the rest were saved in a dramatic sea-air rescue.

Among those saved was Ruth Nichols, 48, noted American aviatrix.

The big Skymaster, bound from Rome to New York with 47 Italian emigrants to Venezuela and 11 Americans aboard, overshot Shannon airport.

Another American airliner tried to escort it back to Shannon, but the Skymaster's gasoline gave out and it plopped into the calm sea 15 miles off the Irish coast.

British and American transport planes guided surface vessels in the rescue operations.

Nine of the Americans aboard were crew members and two were employees of Trans-Ocean Airlines, owners of the plane.

Ten hours after the plane dropped through a cloudbank into the sea, the British trawler Stalberg pulled into Galway harbor with 49 survivors. The Irish steamer Lanahorne had helped her in the rescue work.

Some of the passengers dived into the sea and began to swim. Others put off from the plane in life rafts. Many of the survivors suffered from shock.

Capt. Edward Bessy, the pilot, lost and nearly 2½ hours overdue, had been trying to nurse his meagre gasoline supply until he reached land under the escort of another American airliner.

His engines started cutting out and he informed his escort he would have to ditch the plane on the sea.

An hour and a half before the plane was scheduled to land the control tower here lost radio contact with it.

Shortly before 4 a.m., the pilot of a British Overseas airliner reported he had sighted the lost plane flying 30 miles out at sea, west of the Irish coast.

At about the same time, a Trans-World Airliner, bound from Shannon to New York, arrived on the scene and its pilot, Capt. Charles Adams, radioed

"follow me." He swung around and started back from Shannon, with the Trans-Ocean plane following.

Fifteen miles from land, Bessy reported his engines were beginning to cut out.

"I'll have to ditch it," he told Adams.

Adams followed him down to within 300 feet of the water, where he ran into a cloudbank. Bessy continued on down and belied the big Skymaster to a landing on the water near the Aran Islands.

Adams dropped flares to light the area and returned to Shannon, where he unloaded his passengers and prepared to lead the rescue work.

Meanwhile, the Stalberg reached the scene of the emergency landing and began picking up the survivors.

President, Premier Shot In Syria Coup

Hero Of Palestine War Leads Revolt, Forms New Regime

DAMASCUS (AP)—Syria's President and Premier were shot Sunday in a lightning military coup whose repercussions thundered through the explosive Middle East.

Col. Sami Hennawi, 51, Syrian hero of the Palestine war, led the group of senior army officers who overthrew the government of Marshal Husni Zayim.

A sharp burst from a firing squad at the great Mazza military barracks ended the rule of the stocky little Zayim who had seized power 4½ months ago.

Zayim's bespectacled Premier, Muhsen Bey Berazi, generally considered the brains of the regime, died with him.

Col. Hennawi issued communiques telling of the shootings. They called the dead rulers "traitors" and "tyrants," and ordered the army and police to join forces to maintain calm.

(Dispatches from Syria are subject to censorship.) Col. Hennawi Sunday night summoned a meeting of 50 prominent Syrian politicians. He told them Zayim was guilty of "conceit and despotism." He said the revolution was forced by the president's reckless spending of government funds and his failure to follow through on promises of reform.

The assembled politicians, including Faris el Khouri, Syria's delegate to the United Nations, called on former President Hafez Bey Attassi to form a new government. He accepted.

Hashem Attassi, in his 80's, is Syria's oldest and most respected politician. He served as president of the republic from 1936 to 1940.

He named 11 men to serve in his cabinet, including Nazem Kudi, former Syrian minister to Washington, as minister of foreign affairs. General Abdullah Attieh, top officer in the Syrian army, was named minister of defense.

Attieh held the same position under Zayim. The new cabinet, or council of ministers, will assume all executive as well as legislative powers until the return of parliamentary rule to the country.

In an interview with the Associated Press last Friday, Zayim told of his hopes for an "Atlantic pact" covering the Middle East. He said he would sponsor it.

Although Zayim was ardently anti-Israel he recently took steps to protect Syrian Jews and moved swiftly against a band of terrorists who bombed a synagogue a week ago Friday.

West Germany Extremists Trail Field In Voting

FRANKFURT (AP)—West Germany was handed its right-wing parties a mandate to direct the new federal republic for the crucial next four years.

More than 24,000,000 Germans swarmed to the polls Sunday, in their first free election since Hitler took over in 1933. They handed Communism its fourth major defeat in western Europe since the war. France, Italy and west Berlin said "no" to the Reds in earlier elections.

West German voters also rejected Socialism and extreme right pro-Nazi groups, giving control of the 402-member parliament to the free enterprise parties whose policies have the confidence of American officials.

There were a few street fights in some cities but for the most part voting at the heavily-policed polls was orderly.

Topping the popular vote with 7,556,025 were the Conservative Christian Democrats.

Close behind with 6,932,303 were the Social Democrats who want to nationalize big industries.

The Free Democrats, who favor the free-enterprise system with no reservations, surged into third place with 2,828,948 votes.

By joining with the Christian Democrats they can assure a controlling bloc in Parliament and will be able to form a Conservative cabinet.

Trailing the field of the major parties were the Communists who slumped from 10 per cent of the popular vote in 1948 state elections to about 6 per cent—1,360,469 votes.

Even Max Reimann, fiery chief of the Communist party in west Germany, was spurned by his home district.

Rejected by the voters, Reimann will nevertheless probably be named to the Parliament as a member for North Rhine-Westphalia under the proportional representation system.

Parliamentary seats allotted to the parties on the basis of completed election returns:

Christian Democrats, 139; Social Democrats, 131; Free Democrats, 51; German Party (right-wing), 17; Bavarian Party (extreme right), 17; Communists, 15; Economic Reconstructionists (right), 12; Centre Party, 10; German Right Party (extreme right wing), 5; Emergency Association, none; Radical Socialist Freedom Party (left of centre), one; Independents, two.

Soaring Record Claimed By Pilot

ARNPRIOR, Ont. (CP)—Barrie Jeffery of Vancouver, employed by the National Research Council at its experimental air field here, today claimed a new 90-mile distance record for motorless flight in Canada.

Towed aloft Sunday from Carp, Ont., air field, about 20 miles west of Ottawa, he landed his Grunau baby sailplane near Coteau Landing, Que. five hours and 20 minutes later. Coteau landing is just 90 miles due east from Carp.

He remained in Czechoslovakia after the Communists completed their seizure of power. But in July, 1948, he escaped over the border with another Czech general, Antonin Hsual, and both men made contact with U.S. army authorities in the western zone of Germany.

When the Ferjenciks were escorted by armed guards from the ship to Ellis Island, the immigration inspector said "the general is being held as a suspected Communist" and declined further comment.

24,000 Australian Miners Work After Costly Strike

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Australia's 24,000 coal miners today went back to the pits on their old terms after a seven-week strike.

The general coal strike was called June 27, at the height of the winter season in down-under Australia. The miners were demanding a 35-shilling ($4.85) weekly wage increase, reduction of the work week from 40 hours to 35 and long-service leave.

None of their demands were met and the case now reverts to arbitration by the National Coal Board.

Servicemen who worked the open-pit mines of New South Wales for the last 13 days of the crippling strike left the mines at midnight. The army announced the troops had mined 100,000 tons of coal.

At a weekend conference the miners agreed to end a long-standing ban on more than one shift daily and agreed to work two or three shifts daily on open-pit mines.

Prime Minister Chifley in a broadcast Sunday night thanked the troops for their work in the coal fields, urged the miners to purge, Communists from their ranks and told of a scheme to increase Australia's coal production.

Chifley said production of coal in New South Wales would be increased from the present 1,125,000 tons yearly to about 5,000,000 tons. To do this the coal board had ordered more than $1,250,000 (about $4,000,000) worth of heavy mining machinery.

Violence In Munich

A police car burns after being set on fire by Jewish displaced persons who marched on the office of a German newspaper in Munich which had printed an anti-Semitic letter. The swastika, symbol of the now defunct Nazi party, was painted on the hood of the police car by the rioters. Some 1,100 Jews and German police took part in the riot, with five of the former and 20 of the latter receiving injuries.—Nea Telephoto.

Czech Catholics Reported Mapping Plans Against Reds

TRNAVA, Czechoslovakia (UP)—A Roman Catholic Church source said today the Czech board of bishops met here during the week-end to lay new plans for its struggle against the Communist government.

It was the first meeting of the hierarchy since the Vatican issued its decree excommunicating all Communists and active fellow-travelers from the church.

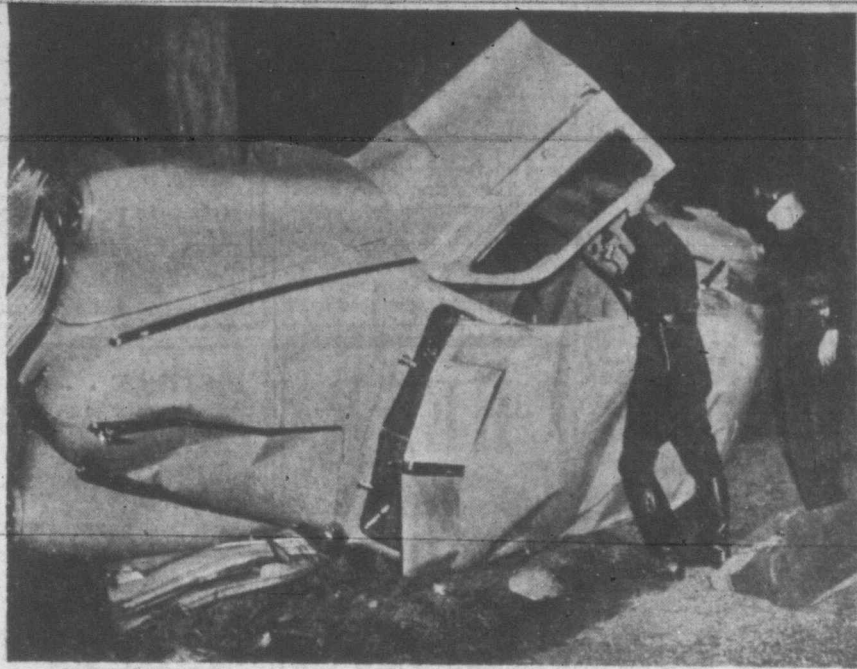

All but three of the nation's top church command were gathered here for consecration of two bishops in defiance of the government.

A government spokesman indicated, however, the state would not take any action against the church for holding the unauthorized ceremony.

Dr. Josef Straka of the Slovakian commission of education said by telephone from Bratislava, capital of Slovakia, that the church had violated no laws.

He accused the church of being "tactless" but "clever" in its handling of the consecration.

Big Atlantic Airliner Ditched; All But Nine Aboard Survivors

SHANNON, Ireland (AP)—Its fuel exhausted, an American four-engine air liner beached into the Atlantic off the west coast of the Republic of Ireland in darkness early today. Nine of its 58 occupants were killed and the rest were saved in a dramatic sea-air rescue.

Among those saved was Ruth Nichols, 48, noted American aviatrix.

The big Skymaster, bound from Rome to New York with 47 Italian emigrants to Venezuela and 11 Americans aboard, overshot Shannon airport.

Another American airliner tried to escort it back to Shannon, but the Skymaster's gasoline gave out and it plopped into the calm sea 15 miles off the Irish coast.

British and American transport planes guided surface vessels in the rescue operations.

Nine of the Americans aboard were crew members and two were employees of Trans-Ocean Airlines, owners of the plane.

Ten hours after the plane dropped through a cloudbank into the sea, the British trawler Stalberg pulled into Galway harbor with 49 survivors. The Irish steamer Lanahorne had helped her in the rescue work.

One crew member was killed. The other eight dead were passengers, according to Otis Nelson, president of Trans-Ocean Airlines.

Nelson identified the dead crew member as Radio Officer Herbert Asbel of Brooklyn, N.Y. Survivors said he was killed while he was trying to leave the plane. Apparently he was struck by a piece of the plane's broken tail.

When the plane was approaching Shannon, Asbel's radio equipment was blanked out by atmospheric conditions, and this caused the plane to overshoot the airport. Over the Atlantic, the plane went down so gently, the survivors said, that they were not even thrown from their seats.

The only woman passenger, an Italian, was reported to be among the dead.

There was no panic among the passengers. They buckled their lifebelts calmly and strapped themselves into their seats for an expected crash.

The passengers helped inflate the four life rafts. As the plane settled into the water they scurried into an orderly manner.

From the surface of the sea, crew members of the trawler Stalberg watched the plane drop toward the water.

"We saw it with all its landing lights on," said First Mate Dudley Davis. "It glided across our bow—it looked slow—and skidded into the water. All the lights went out."

Davis said it was too dark to attempt immediate rescue and the trawler stood by until dawn.

Most of the survivors were in life rafts about four hours before they were picked up.

Nelson, who chanced to be at Shannon on an inspection of his line's operations and had planned to fly home on the lost plane, said the Irish steamer Lanahorne had recovered five other bodies, leaving two still missing.

Some of the passengers dived into the sea and began to swim. Others put off from the plane in life rafts. Many of the survivors suffered from shock.

Capt. Edward Bessy, the pilot, lost and nearly 2½ hours overdue, had been trying to nurse his meagre gasoline supply until he reached land under the escort of another American airliner.

His engines started cutting out and he informed his escort he would have to ditch the plane on the sea.

An hour and a half before the plane was scheduled to land the control tower here lost radio contact with it.

Shortly before 4 a.m. the pilot of a British Overseas airliner reported he had sighted the lost plane flying 30 miles out at sea, west of the Irish coast.

Approve Arms Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee today approved the full $1,160,990,000 asked by the administration for military aid to Western Europe, but limited first-year cash spending to only about half of the total.

Chairman John Kee, (D, W. Va.) told reporters the committee had agreed on $655,840,000 (M) in cash to run the program through next June and $505,150,000 (M) in contract authority.

The bill would require an appropriation by Congress to put up the cash, but Congress would not have to appropriate money immediately for the contract authority.

Contract authority is a binding commitment, however, and the administration would have a free hand to proceed with plans for spending the full amount.

The only restriction the committee wrote into the legislation as it applies to Western Europe was to require that the President certify to Congress that a unified Allied command has been established under provisions of the North Atlantic Pact before any contract authority is exercised.

Kee said the proposal to split Western Europe's military aid into cash and contract authority was offered by Rep. John Davis Lodge, R., Conn. A similar plan was proposed earlier by the Senate's leading Republican spokesman on Foreign Affairs, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan. He and Sen. John Foster Dulles, R., N.Y., proposed that the immediate cash outlay for the arms program be limited to $500,000,000.

The House Committee rejected a proposal by Lodge to authorize an additional $200,000,000 for military aid to China.

Target of Search in North Africa
The search for the mother of a former French convict. Investigators said she flew to Algeria a week after the robbery in a plane chartered four days before the bandits held up the Aga Khan and his wife outside their villa at Nice.

Police were told that Esther Azoulay, mother of Roger Senanedj, who is one of the chief suspects in the robbery, flew to Algiers, Aug. 9, with a 30-pound suitcase.

Police said Senanedj himself made the reservation for her passage.

Mrs. Azoulay, they said, was accompanied by a friend registered only as "R." Police believed the gems might have been hidden in the suitcase or concealed on Madam Azoulay's person.

No customs check is made on the French-Algerian run.

Public Enemy No. 1 Captured With Wife After Officer Slain

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Earl D. Bircham, 45, bandit called by the F.B.I. "U.S. Public Enemy No. 1," was captured and charged with murder today after he killed Policeman John H. Temmison and critically wounded Policeman John A. Ross.

Bircham was captured by husky Luther Williams, 37, a former marine, who tackled the escaped convict although he had a gun in each hand. Bircham's two guns failed to fire. He pulled both triggers twice in an attempt to stop Williams.

Bircham is charged in a federal warrant with the $25,498 robbery of Centennial branch of the American National Bank, Nashville, Tenn.

Bircham's wife, 26-year-old Mrs. June Henson Bircham, was captured with him. In a complaint filed before the U.S. district court judge at Nashville she was charged with robbing the Nashville bank Aug. 1.

Both were arraigned and held without bond.

60 Per Cent Of Greek Reds In Visti Battle Wiped Out

ATHENS, Greece (UP)—U.S. Gen. James A. Van Fleet said today that about 60 per cent of the 7,000 guerrillas in the Visti Mountains had been annihilated.

Van Fleet, head of the U.S. military aid mission to Greece, said on his return from a tour of the front lines in northern Greece that about 30 per cent of the Communist-led fighters escaped after a crushing defeat.

The remaining 10 per cent he indicated, were either prisoners or putting up token resistance along the Albanian border.

Algeria Now Scene Of Search For Gems Taken From Aga Khan

MARSEILLE (UP)—The trail of the Aga Khan's stolen $765,000 worth of jewels reached across the Mediterranean today to Algeria.

Conservative Parties Plan To Coalesce

By DONALD DOANE

FRANKFURT (AP)—Western Germany's Conservative Parties moved today toward a Coalition which would commit the new republic to the free enterprise system during the next four years.

Those parties emerged in the strongest position in Sunday's parliamentary election—the first free balloting of its type since Hitler took over in 1933.

The voters rebuffed both the Communists and the extreme right pro-Nazi groups. The Social Democrats (Socialists) ranked second in the popular vote. Control of the government, however, is expected to rest with the anti-Socialist parties.

Official figures showed 23,724,479 of Western Germany's 31,179,422 eligible voters participated in the election. The 402-member parliament which was elected will meet Sept. 7 in the newly-chosen capital at Bonn.

The parliament will elect a President of the Republic two days later, with 400 State delegates joining the parliamentary deputies in the presidential vote. The President will name a Chancellor, a post similar to that of Prime Minister. The Chancellor in turn will form a government with sovereignty over 47,000,000 Germans living west of the Russian zone.

Speculation On Top Posts
Dr. Konrad Adenauer, chairman of the Christian Democrats, is regarded as the likely choice for Chancellor. His party received the largest popular vote.

Professor Theodor Heuss, chairman of the Free Democrats, was mentioned for the presidency. The Free Democrats finished third.

The Christian Democrats and Free Democrats together came within 11 seats of gaining a majority in parliament. They can easily pick up those seats by annexing one or more of the small right-wing parties.

Complete official returns for the six major parties showed the Christian Democrats with 7,357,579 votes and 139 seats, the Social Democrats, 6,932,272 votes and 131 seats, the Free Democrats, 2,788,535 votes and 52 seats, the Communists, 1,360,443 votes and 25 seats, the Bavarian Party, 986,606 votes and 17 seats, and the German Party 940,088 votes and 17 seats.

The election was regarded as communism's fourth major defeat in Western Europe since the war. The earlier ones occurred in France, Italy and Western Berlin.

There were a few street fights in some cities but for the most part, voting at the heavily-policed polls, was orderly.

Entry In Union More Likely
STRASBOURG (AP)—The right-wing victory in Sunday's West German elections has boosted that country's chances of joining the Council of Europe, observers here believe.

Intimates of Winston Churchill said Britain's wartime prime minister now would throw the full weight of his enormous personal prestige behind the battle for German membership.

Churchill had said he would take this step if the elections produced a "really free, western-type government."

Such a move is virtually certain to bring about heated debate on the floor of this assembly which hopes in time to be the recognized parliament of a united Europe.

British Labor Party members are expected to make a last-ditch stand against it. Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin is reported so opposed that he may use his veto in the upper house of the assembly (the committee of foreign ministers) to block any discussion of Germany at this session.

He is reported to feel that the council should wait to see what the policies of the new German government will be before taking any action.

The attitude of France, always fearful of a German revival, will have important bearing on chances for German membership.

Arena To Be Ready For Skating Sept. 26
It now appears the Victoria Cougars will be able to make their scheduled appearance in the Memorial Arena Sept. 26.

Charles T. Hamilton, consulting engineer for construction of the arena, following a meeting this morning with the city's arena committee headed by Acting Mayor Ed. Williams, said that as conditions are at present, there is no reason why there should not be ice-skating by that date.

Major portion of the installation work has been completed, he said, and workmen now are putting in the finishing touches.

Alberni Lumber Workers Threaten To Call Strike

PORT ALBERNI — Lumber workers of Alberni District at a meeting here Sunday declared they would strike in event of an unfavorable decision on wage and contract negotiations.

Furthermore they will ask for immediate government supervised strike ballot and are strongly in favor of not awaiting a cooling off period should the tabulation indicate strike.

Special buses brought men from Central Lake, A.P.L. Camp 1 and H. S. & W. Camp 8. Strike committees and chairman were elected at the meeting and all sub locals of district 1,85 I.W.A. instructed to appoint full strike committees immediately.

Union membership expressed a strong feeling that if strike action becomes necessary, that there be no further compromises. Points they proposed to be adamant on are wages, closed shop and reduction in hours.

The meeting attracted the largest attendance since the annual meeting. Secretary Carl Anshelm reported 135 new members in the last two months with 20 initiated at the Sunday meeting.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

TO THE VICTOR

SHAKESPEARE'S King Henry the Fourth once exclaimed, "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown"—and if statues could speak I know of one which I am certain would support those sentiments wholeheartedly.

For the mammoth marble and bronze effigy of Queen Victoria which was banned from outside Leinster House, in Dublin, where the Dail meets, is certainly being hounded from pillar to post these days.

On July 12—which, by the bye, happens to be the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne—Finance Minister Patrick McGillingham of Eire announced that an early disposal of the statue would be made, and that the city of London in Ontario was interested in obtaining it.

MARCH OF DIMES

AS I POINTED OUT in a recent column, it was just about then that the money question obtruded itself and snagged negotiations, as the cost of transportation alone would run into about $8,000.

The good people of London were divided as to whether the royal presence was worth that much to the city's culture and prestige. Some of the city fathers wanted to turn it down, others came up with ideas for raising the necessary funds—one even suggesting a March of Dimes for the purpose.

One enthusiastic Londoner even broke out in a rash of poetry entitled "Victoria," starting out—and ending—on this lofty note:

"Of all the cities in the land,
This is the one where it should rest,
Because we are art loving folks,
And yet possess none of the best.

So let's no longer silence keep,
But urge to have the statue bought,
Don't wait until it is too late,
To buy a treasure such as that."

IF AND WHERE

THEN, JUST TO ADD SPICE to the controversy, a difference of opinion arose as to where—in the event of the acquisition—the imposing figure would be placed.

While the discussion over this was raging hot and heavy, another Ontario city was eyeing the Dublin derelict with avid eyes. The Peterboro City Council took the matter under advisement and decided that it would make a wonderful corner-piece for its Victoria Park.

The mayor even went so far as to write to Hon. L. B. Pearson, Canada's Minister for External Affairs, to find out what it would cost to bring Queen Victoria's stony replica from Dublin.

INCIDENT FEUD?

IT DOESN'T NEED ME to tell my Victoria readers what all this portends. It has in it all the elements for a protracted intercity feud—and if the Ontario variety has the same gingery ingredients as the western variety, then I shall make an immediate bid for a ringside seat.

The Peterboro Examiner has already injected seasoning into the simmering pot by expressing a low view of London's architectural taste and claims that Peterboro's is "far more Victorian." That adjective, I assume, refers to an era, and any resemblance to our own city is purely coincidental.

BIRDS AND STATUES

YET, THAT MAY HAVE BEEN an oblique compliment to us, as I notice that a Toronto Globe and Mail editorial on the subject suggests this city as the ultimate resting place of the harried "Victoria The Good".

"On second thought, how about a third party? Still in a neutral corner, we nominate the Queen's namesake city on the Pacific Coast. If birds go to Victoria, as the tourist gentlemen say out there, why can't a statue?"

But when the same Toronto editor further pontificated: "Then Victoria would have concrete—pardon, bronze—proof of its right to the name . . ." I quivered with indignation.

FOR UNITY'S SAKE

SUCH IGNORANCE BEARS OUT what I have long maintained—that it is high time some of those wise men of the east came out and had a look at the west, if only in the interests of national unity.

They need only follow those same birds to their destination to be convinced that this latest heresy is probably causing her very late majesty to totter on her weather-beaten plinth in Belleville Street.

Hollywood Barbers Wail Actors Ruining Their Business

By VIRGINIA MACPHERSON

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Shaggy customers get more than a haircut in the local barber shops these days. For no extra charge the snip-and-clip boys toss in a long, sad tale on how Hollywood is ruining the barber business.

Every dandy on the fringes of movieland wants to look like a long-haired movie lover. Too many are even going in for Gregory Peckish sideburns. This, walls Morris Mandel, treasurer of the Beverly Hills Barbers' Association, could get to be downright catastrophic on tonorial cash registers.

LIKE TARZAN

The same thing goes for their boys, too. They all want to look like "Tarzan."

"That blankety-blank Lex Barker," Mandel rants to anybody he corners under a hot towel. "Nobody goes a haircut any more. Business is terrible, even unto the second generation." He can remember, and it wasn't too many jungle epics ago either, when the male progeny of Hollywood and Beverly Hills were usually good for $150 a week in haircuts.

"Now they stick to their own backyards," he says. "Presumably, they're swinging from tree to tree, with their long locks flowing in the breeze. Bah!"

Once in a while, a long-suffering mother rebels and drags her "Tarzan, junior grade," into a barber shop. That's almost worse than leaving him in the trees, Mandel sighs.

If he isn't screaming murder as mama shoves him through the door, he lets loose as soon as the barber starts flipping his scissors.

"You get your back that way, sure," Mandel says, "but it isn't worth it. You ever try to cut a brat's hair when he doesn't want it cut?"

NOT TO BE BEATEN

"You can't slug him one, either, because he's usually the son of a movie producer or director—and they're all good customers—about the only ones we have left. If junior goes home and tells papa we jabbed him, we lose the old man, too."

Mandel says he can tell every time business is going to drop off. Let a "Tarzan" thriller hit the neighborhood and the boys stop coming in. After a period picture, the grown-up trade slips off.

And he almost gave up barbering for good after "The Ox-Bow Incident."

"Everybody came in and demanded an Apache crew cut," Mandel winced. "Shaved all over—with a strip of stubble down the middle. Hollywood—phooey!"

Report Explosion Killed 20 Soviets

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—The British-controlled German newspaper Welt Am Sonntag reported Sunday that 20 Soviet army officers were killed in a bomb explosion at a Soviet officers' club in Potsdam July 25.

There was no confirmation of the story from any official sources.

The newspaper said the bomb was exploded in a plot to kill Russian Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, who commands a line of communication troops in the Soviet zone of Germany. During the war he commanded Soviet armies which drove German troops from present Polish western territories.

The newspaper quoted "reliable sources of the German provincial government in Brandenburg."

Man Drowned Trying To Rescue His Wife

STEVESTON, B.C. (CP)—James Eckhart, 31-year-old fisherman, lost his life Saturday night in an heroic attempt to save his wife after she fell overboard from their fishing boat into the Fraser River.

The couple had just left the wharf here, about 10 miles east of Vancouver, when Eckhart's wife, Kathleen, slipped and fell. Eckhart leaped in.

Two other fishermen, William Christiansen and Emil Anderson, came to the rescue in another boat. They fished Mrs. Eckhart from the water, but her husband had disappeared. His body was recovered five hours later.

The couple's two daughters, aged three and two, were in their parents' boat at the time.

Machine Age Comes To Berry Picking

FUYALLUP, Wash. (AP)—Farmer Paul Nemes had trouble finding pickers for his raspberry crop, so he invented a berry picker.

His harvester, powered by a gas engine, shakes ripe berries onto a slanting table where a fan blows leaves and stem away leaving the fruit ready for market.

A cannery official who witnessed the harvester in operation and later inspected the berries, said the fruit is firmer than that picked by hand and is far more sanitary. This in addition to its being an undoubted labor saver.

The population of Tibet is unknown, and estimates range from 700,000 to 6,000,000 persons.

Expect 400 College Registrants

With the postwar rush to colleges and universities nearly at an end, registration at Victoria College, which began at 10 this morning, is expected to total between 375 and 400 students, or the future average for the college, Miss Dorothy M. Cruickshank, registrar, said this morning.

Of this year's total, Miss Cruickshank estimated only 15 or 20 would-be veterans entering college through D.V.A. This compares with 45 veterans included in the total registration of 416 last year, and 243 veterans in the record registration of 587 for the 1946-47 regular session. Only one new course, Geology 201-202, is being offered at the college this year, although additional sections in chemistry and physics are being added for those students who have not taken either of them before.

Registration will continue through to and including Sept. 12. Supplemental examinations will begin beforehand, on Aug. 25.

The college session will begin officially Sept. 15, but activities will be confined to organization, with lectures not scheduled to start until Sept. 19. The first term will end Dec. 20 and the second term will begin Jan. 4. Last day of lectures will be April 3, and sessional examinations will begin two days later on April 15. The second term will end April 23.

First registrant for Victoria College 1949-50 session was 18-year-old Robert McEara, Cobble Hill, who arrived a few minutes before 10 this morning. He is seen with Miss P. Sullivan, assistant to the registrar, as he registers for first year Arts and Science.

24,000 Australian Miners Work After Costly Strike

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Australia's 24,000 coal miners today went back to the pits on their old terms after a seven-week strike.

The general coal strike was called June 27, at the height of the winter season in down-under Australia. The miners were demanding a 35-shilling ($4.85) weekly wage increase, reduction of the work week from 40 hours to 35 and long-service leave.

None of their demands were met and the case now reverts to arbitration by the National Coal Board.

Servicemen who worked the open-pit mines of New South Wales for the last 13 days of the crippling strike led the mines at midnight. The army announced the troops had mined 100,000 tons of coal.

At a week-end conference the miners agreed to end a long-standing ban on more than one shift daily and agreed to work two or three shifts daily on open-pit mines.

Prime Minister Chifley in a broadcast Sunday night thanked the troops for their work in the coal fields, urged the miners to purge Communists from their ranks and told of a scheme to increase Australia's coal production.

Chifley said production of coal in New South Wales would be increased from the present 1,125,000 tons yearly to about 5,000,000 tons. To do this the coal board had ordered more than $1,250,000 (about $4,000,000) worth of heavy mining machinery.

The strike hit Australia at the peak of a severe winter season. Industry was paralyzed and more than 600,000 workers were made idle. Loss of coal is put at 1,700,000 tons.

Army Minister Cyril Chambers also thanked the troops. He said the servicemen's work "is worthy of the highest commendation."

"During the coal crisis the servicemen have shown, as they did in the recent disastrous floods, that they will play an important role in peace time as in war."

Brother Shot Dead, Island Fisherman Accused Of Murder

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—A seine boat fisherman from Nanaimo, B.C., has been charged by Provincial Police with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of his brother Saturday night aboard their boat here.

The shooting victim was Victor Johnson, 39-year-old skipper of the seine boat Izumi III.

His brother, Earl, was taken into custody by police a short time after the shooting and was formally charged with murder today.

Another brother, Cliff Johnson, and a brother-in-law, Mickey Dolan, are being held by police, apparently as material witnesses.

Victor Johnson died about 10:15 p.m. Saturday, within two minutes from the time he was struck in the chest by a bullet from a 22 calibre rifle. The bullet entered his right lung.

Police said the shooting occurred following a drinking party and altercation in the fore-castle of the seine boat.

By close of play on the second day of the last of the tests, England had 432 for four wickets in reply to New Zealand's 345 total for their first innings.

Ex-Slovak Official Held In New York As Red Suspect

NEW YORK (AP)—A former high-ranking Slovakian official, seized as he arrived in the United States as a displaced person, was detained today by immigration officials as a suspected Communist.

The ex-official, Gen. Mikulas Ferjencik, 44, was taken into custody Sunday along with his wife, Milada, 32.

The general and his wife were among 222 passengers listed as displaced persons who arrived from Bremerhaven, Germany, on the U.S. army transport, General Heintzelman.

He remained in Czechoslovakia after the Communists completed their seizure of power. But in July, 1948, he escaped over the border with another Czech general, Antonin Hasal, and both men made contact with U.S. army authorities in the western zone of Germany.

When the Ferjenciks were escorted by armed guards from the ship to Ellis Island, the immigra-

Six Persons Lucky In Bad Sunday Crash In Saanich

A total of $1,600 in damage was done to five cars, six persons luckily escaped serious injury and one driver was arrested, in a trio of highway accidents in Saanich in the early hours of Sunday morning, Saanich police reported.

Joseph Edward Engels, Jordan River, was arrested and released on posting $200 bail following the first accidents at Ash Road and Shelbourne Street, Mount Douglas Park, shortly after midnight.

At a special Saanich court session today, Engels, a United States citizen, pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving laid under the Criminal Code and was fined $100 by Magistrate A. I. Thomas. No license suspension was imposed.

The late model car Engels was driving went out of control on a corner and wound up against a tree, Sgt. Jack Hamilton said. The officer said the car apparently turned over a couple of times before coming to rest.

Three of six persons in the vehicle, all returning from the Cordova Bay dance, were taken to Jubilee Hospital. The driver and Lora Rooney, 1744 Kisher Street, were released after treatment. Still in hospital is Lorne McLean, 211 Skinner Street, with a shoulder injury.

Estimate of officers at the scene was that $1,000 damage was done to the car.

About $200 damage was done to two cars at 145, police said, when a car driven by Henry Rowe, 1420 Camosun Street, collided with one in charge of Robert L. Fennell, 1123 Reynolds Road, parked off the road opposite the Reynolds address.

No one was hurt. No persons were injured, but about $400 damage was done to cars in collision on East Saanich

A-Bomb Storage In Canada Denied By Ottawa Officials

OTTAWA (UP)—Possibility the United States might stockpile atomic bombs in Canada was termed nonsense by a top-ranking defence department source today.

He was commenting on reports that U.S. Defence Secretary Louis A. Johnson had advanced the idea during last week's high-level secret defence talks here. The reports said the bombs probably would be stored in Newfoundland or Labrador, near takeoff points for trans-Atlantic bombings in the event of another world war.

"That's nothing but nonsense," the defence informant said. "When passengers are flown across the Atlantic, they get on at Montreal or New York, for example," he added. "All the planes need to do is take on oil and gas in Newfoundland. The passengers don't have to be picked up there."

He said the same applied to A-bombs. They would be flown from their storage places in the U.S. and, if necessary, the bombers would simply refuel in Newfoundland or Labrador.

"That is," he added, "if the flights are routed that way."

INSPIRING CONFIDENCE

ENCOURAGING EMPLOYMENT REPORTS
from the provincial Department of Trade and Industry for May and June, coupled with news that a major shipbuilding contract is coming to a Victoria yard, underscore the stability of local and British Columbia economy as the region west of the Rockies embarks upon a program that promises unprecedented development. The entire picture is indicated in the overall planning of government and private interests which are speedily translating their blueprints into actuality in this section of Canada.

As a background against which these guide posts of rational prosperity show clearly, may be taken current reviews of the Canadian and North American scene in general. Admittedly the trading outlook creates justifiable grounds for serious thought, particularly in view of the abnormal conditions which prevail owing to dollar shortages in certain areas and the relative emphasis which is being placed on production and export of defence equipment. But, the imponderables of the future notwithstanding, there are ample grounds for optimism.

Because of the close inter-relationship between Canada and the United States, it is of specific interest to note the analysis made by Mr. Beardsley Ruml, originator of the U.S. "Pay As You Go" income tax plan, which is presented in the current issue of Collier's magazine. To the rhetorical question, "Are We Going Broke?" Mr. Ruml answers an emphatic "No." Basic changes in the United States economic system have been instituted to correct contributing factors to the debacle of the "hungry thirties," in that authority's opinion. War, or the exhaustion of natural resources could, of course, bring financial calamity. But against this the author of the Collier's article quotes three main reasons why there should be "no cause to fear depression" in his own country. First he lists a great improvement in the money system of the nation. To this he adds arguments indicating the improvements in the credit system and the credit practices. And as a third safeguard he outlines the vast extension of risk-sharing which has taken place since the last severe depression.

Space does not permit expansion of his case here. The writer frankly admits the probability that many individuals will go broke—as they have in previous years of national prosperity—and he expects the number of bankruptcies to reflect the increased population. But his overall conclusions, despite concern over the abnormalities of a world of international tensions, are of a nature to bring gratification to his people.

Mr. Ruml's article, be it noted, refers specifically to the United States. The influence of conditions there cannot, however, be ignored north of the 49th Parallel under our existing system with its close integration. All in all, the outlook appears one to inspire confidence, locally, provincially and nationally. The reply to the crepe hangers might easily be that we have nothing to fear but fear.

WISE COURSE

FEW, IF ANY, MEMBERS OF THE
Council of Europe's assembly will expect to escape consideration of highly contentious questions. Sharp divisions of opinion may be routine on many matters. It seems, however, that Saturday's vote rejecting an attempt by the Republic of Ireland to call up for debate the Irish partition problem has considerable merit. It is to be presumed that the democratic right of freedom of discussion will be preserved. But such discussions, surely, should be of concern to at least a number of the countries represented. Who, other than the two parties directly connected with partition—the new Republic and Britain—is affected by the situation which leaves the northern section of the Emerald Isle within the immediate framework of United Kingdom jurisdiction?

Times without number Eire has attempted to have the line of demarcation between its territory and that of Ulster removed. On each occasion the determination of Dublin to accomplish that objective has been equally matched by the determination of the northern section to avoid such a course. The issue still remains one between the two countries, and a solution seems remote.

Surely there are matters of greater importance to the majority of the members of the new Council than this dispute—and surely there are points of conflict that may be more easily resolved. Under existing circumstances, the partition issue could have given nothing of constructive value to the new organization—could have, in fact, done little more than throw into its lap an interminable wrangle. The Council, it appears, has decided wisely. There will be time enough for the discussion of partition when the recently-formed organization has gained the strength of greater maturity and has dealt with items of more pressing emergency.

CANADIAN CONTRIBUTION

IT IS PERHAPS FITTING THAT A COUNTRY

try which has done so much to pioneer aerial freight haulage as Canada should now have produced the first jet airliner to be built on this continent. The field of aviation, to which the Northland bush pilots of the Dominion brought so much glamor and sound progress, again records a Canadian contribution of no small importance. Last week the Avro XC-102 made its first test flight at Toronto and there was every indication that it will prove a complete success. The only other jet plane of similar capacity in existence is the British De Havilland Comet, which already is making history in jet propulsion. An American expert has described the Canadian plane as "further advanced than the Comet, although not exactly the same type of ship."

Apart from the prestige arising from such an achievement, there are other commendable features regarding the new aircraft. Sources in the United States indicate that there may be a ready market in that country for the Canadian jet—it has been designed in conformity with United States civil air regulations—and if this is so a very favorable source of dollar exchange may be revealed. With a capacity of 50 passengers and a working speed of 430 miles per hour at 30,000 feet, the possibilities of the plane, both in war and peace, appear immense.

OUT OF HER LINE

tragedies of our age is an inclination to solicit opinion on widely diversified questions from an individual whose name is well-known as an expert in some field completely divorced from the subject of the queries. Most recently the current Miss America has dabbled her dainty toes in hot waters because she has apparently been too generous in giving her views on matters which do not concern her and on which she may not be competent to speak.

A certain amount of sympathy will be extended to the young lady. She has been asked what she thought about this and about that. And she has given replies which have embarrassed her father and others. Miss America, apparently, has not reached the point at which she discriminates between idle talk with familiars and statements for presentation in the press. To establish a defence for her, she has been armed with a simple weapon. It is the two words "no comment." Conceivably her inspired reticence may create the impression that she is "beautiful but . . .". On the other hand, many a person has earned a reputation for sagacity merely by remaining mute. Moreover, why should her opinion be solicited on a variety of subjects for which her abilities to impress beauty contest judges have scarcely equipped her?

ANTI-CLOCKWISE

THE FAMED SWALLOWS OF SAN

Juan Capistrano have become legendary for their arrival at the mission each year, reputedly at the same time on the same day. A similar attempt to establish a tradition in regard to the arrival of flights of birds on the University of British Columbia campus each year is being made by those interested in such things, but there is considerable doubt as to whether a careful investigation would bear out the split-second accuracy attributed to either the Point Grey migrants or the feathered pilgrims to the California mission.

There was proof last week, however, that even though time may not completely rule the comings and goings of the birds, the latter may exert their influence on that precious commodity. A news item from London relates that the 9 o'clock chimes of Big Ben were delayed last Friday night—a most unusual occurrence—and worried experts discovered that their famous timepiece was running four minutes slow. The cause, it developed, was the presence of "swarms of starlings" who were perched on the great clock's hands, holding them back. A flight of birds had halted the flight of time, as no earth-bound creature would dare to do.

JUST FOR A LAUGH

humorous art in London, under the sponsorship of the Royal Society of Arts, has brought forth a proposal for a permanent national gallery of humor in the capital. From the comments of those interested, including officials of the Society, it would appear that there is a good chance of such a display being established. The suggestion seems to be a typically British one, and particularly admirable under the conditions of austerity now borne by the population of that island.

As one goes to a spa for recuperation of the nerves or muscles, visits the theatre for relaxation of the senses and emotions, or dines out in an effort to pamper a jaded appetite, so might he repair to the humorous art exhibit to restore the susceptibilities of his funny-bone and raise his morale to meet the exigencies of problems at hand. The delicious nonsense of Balzac, Heath Robinson, H. M. Bateman and a host of other internationally known British cartoonists represented at the current exhibit, could not fail to provide a wellspring of smiles and chuckles guaranteed to reclaim the good humor of the most dejected victim of austerity living. The permanent gallery would constitute a source of mental health and longevity such as Ponce de Leon might well have sought.

It seems nothing is equally divided. One section suffers from ravaging floods while another is visited by a long drought.

By STEWART ALSOP From London

THE INVISIBLE CRISIS

IT IS now startlingly clear that a bold new attack on the economic crisis which is bedeviling the free world is essential if that world is to survive. Otherwise one of two things is almost certain to happen.

Either the free world will split apart economically, into two great, mutually antagonistic blocs—which means in the end that it will split apart politically. Or the vast sterling area will simply disintegrate, and British power, the essential ingredient of a successful attempt to contain Soviet expansion, will disintegrate also.

THESE, in capsule form, are the views of most informed men, both British and American, in London today. Yet in this lovely summer weather, in this wonderfully bright and gay and prosperous-looking London, it is remarkably difficult to believe that anything is seriously wrong.

The heart of London is so bright that it has an almost Mediterranean look. A water-blasting process has stripped the grime of centuries off the sooty buildings, and turned them white. Here and there is a craggy, blackened reminder of the recent past, but there is new paint everywhere, and there are luxury goods in the shops, and gay crowds in Hyde Park, and a general air of all being well with the world. Here, the visitor might suppose, is the London of the great days of power and prosperity—"happy and glorious, ever victorious."

EVERY evidence of the senses—the warmth of the sun, the smell of summer in the parks, the red brightness of the new uniforms of the Palace guard—seems to belie the existence of a crisis. This fact itself deepens the crisis. To most Englishmen, the crisis is not real, because it is invisible. It is figures on a piece of paper. It is not an empty belly and the old hopeless search for work. Yet it may soon become just that.

A few figures, which are really as simple as schoolboy arithmetic, tell why. The whole sterling area, which comprises a third of the world's trade, has a gold and dollar reserve now little more than $1,500,000,000. This shivering kitty is what keeps the economy of the sterling area ticking over. It is like the liquid reserve of a great bank.

As with any bank, as the reserve shrinks frighteningly, the depositors begin to panic, trying every device to get their money out before it is too late.

YET UNTIL very recently it seemed (as it must have seemed to many about-to-be-ruined bankers) that the reserves would just hold out, that the nervous depositors would calm down, that the bank would squeak through. The year 1948 was much better than disastrous 1947. And the first quarter of this year was better still. With about $1,000,000,000 expected from E.C.A. and other sources, it seemed pretty certain that the dollar deficit would be covered, and the vital reserve would hold steady.

Then, with dramatic suddenness, in the second quarter of this year, everything went terribly wrong. The annual dollar deficit rate (that is the yearly amount the British are spending in dollar countries more than they are selling in dollars) suddenly doubled, shooting up to $2,500,000,000. It has more than 2,600 underwriting members, each with the right of signing a Lloyd's insurance policy. A great deal of Lloyd's business is insurance against fire and accident, but this has only been contracted within the last 60 years, whereas the marine insurance is very old.

IT IS only necessary to work a very simple sum to grasp the meaning of this. Take $2,500,000,000—the rate of deficit. Subtract $1,000,000,000—what the British expected from E.C.A. and other sources. You have $1,500,000,000. This is just about what is left in the kitty. Thus, at the present rate, by next June, there will be nothing left in the kitty at all. The bank will be bust. The whole great sterling area will tend to come apart at the seams. And the British Isles will be faced with something pretty close to total ruin.

This is the crisis. These are the figures which have sent Sir Stafford Cripps to a Swiss sanatorium, and which mean so little to the gay crowds in Hyde Park.

THE FIGURES are probably not quite so terrible as they seem. Eventually, the British may get some of the extra share of Marshall aid they have asked for. They hope to get more gold from South Africa. Cripps will trim dollar imports into the sterling area by some hundreds of millions. Devaluation may slow the terrified flight from the pound. The impact of the economic dip in the United States may ease off. And so on.

This sort of thing may slow the drain on the last reserves, but it will not stop it. Meanwhile, the drain continues, dollar by dollar, like blood dripping from an unhealed wound. What is needed is a bold and drastic operation to heal the wound. One sort of operation is obvious. It is to try to erect a separate and artificial economy, insulated against the magnetism of the American economy. This is, in fact, the direction in which Cripps' dollar cuts, stiffening controls, and bilateral deals are pointing.

THERE may be no alternative. But it is certainly worth looking for one. For historically this sort of economic separation inevitably leads to political separation. And there is nothing, nothing at all, which would more clearly assure the realization of Soviet ambitions than a sharp, angry split between the United States and Great Britain.

Studying Plans For a New Suit

It Began In A Coffee House

BBC London Letter

MATTHEW W. Drysdale, chairman of Lloyd's, recently told BBC-listeners about the beginning of this great concern, known throughout the world in connection with British shipping and British insurance. Lloyd's is one of the most famous of British institutions, the oldest place of insurance in the world and the centre which receives all shipping news and distributes it all over the globe.

It has more than 2,600 underwriting members, each with the right of signing a Lloyd's insurance policy. A great deal of Lloyd's business is insurance against fire and accident, but this has only been contracted within the last 60 years, whereas the marine insurance is very old.

It began in 1688 and owes its birth, by a freak of chance, to the introduction of coffee into Britain.

Coffee, brought in about the middle of the 17th century, very quickly became extremely popular. Little shops were opened in many parts of London and people dropped in to the first cafes to sample the new and attractive drink. One of the people who launched out in this lucrative business was Edward Lloyd, who lived in the eastern part of the City of London, near the Tower and docks.

Now London in the 17th century was not very big, and Lloyd's shop on its eastern boundary was conveniently close to the shipping that came up the Thames to unload its merchandise and fill up with new cargoes. Captains coming ashore passed Lloyd's coffee house on their way into London and naturally called in for a drink.

In this way Lloyd collected his clientele; his coffee house was thick with talk of ships and shipping, of wrecks, adventures, strange cargoes and foreign markets; before long there were more news of the sea and ships in Lloyd's than anywhere else in London, possibly any other place in the world with the exception of Holland.

MEETING GROUND
A place so full of up-to-date news of ships and foreign trade was a good meeting ground for shipowners, merchants and marine underwriters. It was additionally convenient for an owner who went to Lloyd's for news of his ships if somebody there could insure him against all sea-going perils.

Underwriters who formerly did their business in the Exchange began to go to Lloyd's. It was greatly to their advantage, for they got news that was of great value in their business and always found there men with ships and cargoes to insure.

Brokers given insurance to place had to go round the city to find men prepared to underwrite the risk on appropriate terms and at appropriate rates. There was no recognized place to find the underwriters and the brokers spent the greater part of their day in scurrying from "no coffee house" to another in search of underwriters who would take part of the risk. When underwriters began to congregate at Lloyd's the brokers' task became progressively easier.

Mr. Lloyd, by opening his shop where he did, collected and centralized there the marine insurance market of London; his coffee house was destined, though he did not know it, to become the greatest marine insurance market in the world.

Lloyd's grew, developed and moved several times until it settled in the Royal Exchange for some 150 years. Twenty years ago it moved again to a magnificent building in Leadenhall Street.

ON THEIR OWN
"But the thing that, more than anything else, makes Lloyd's men proud to be members of the society," said Mr. Drysdale, "is that the whole history of the place is the history of honorable dealing, private adventure and private enterprise. Nobody planned us or directed us or told us what to do. We took our fate in our hands, risked our own money, bore our own losses and achieved our own successes."

We must beware the slow corruption of our minds by the propagandists who claim we can have a welfare state without its attendant evils. We must guard against swallowing the ideology whole just because we have tasted a few of the responsibilities that are part and parcel of the welfare state.

Conversely, if we sue for and win paternalism, we must be prepared to behave and obey like the irresponsible children we would certainly be.

It is a false notion because, with the acceptance of more and more state hand-outs, brought into being by increasing the burden of taxation on the shoulders of the recipients themselves, there will arise a loose sentimentality that will lump the many who are truly unfortunate. Eventually these parasites, living upon the strong, will destroy the strong and the direction of our lives will be taken over completely by political regulation.

Let us think carefully before we demand added social security measures. In receiving them, we will be paying for them out of our own pockets, because no government can create these things without taxing the people to pay for them; no government can increase its hand-outs without assuming more and more power over the taxpaying citizen.

Has Something
Ottawa Journal
Bernard Baruch, that legendary figure who is supposed to sit on a park bench in Washington and advise Presidents, comes back from a month in Europe to say that the United States should buy more of the world's products with money instead of lending it to foreign governments.

Mr. Baruch may have something there; certainly if the United States bought more goods from Europe, and let down some of its trade barriers against Europe, we might be hearing at least less of Europe's dollar shortage.

Trouble is, how do we get nations to want to buy more and sell less?

Too Much Of A Good Thing?
From Industry
The community that government should extend its system of welfare benefits, that more and more taxes should be levied to cover more and more welfare projects, that the weak should be carried permanently on the backs of the strong.

The straight-from-the-shoulder preaching of socialism has thus far failed to convert Canadians, but the undercurrent thinking persists that we can have a welfare state without embracing the paternalism of all-out-socialism.

It is a false notion because, with the acceptance of more and more state hand-outs, brought into being by increasing the burden of taxation on the shoulders of the recipients themselves, there will arise a loose sentimentality that will lump the many who are truly unfortunate. Eventually these parasites, living upon the strong, will destroy the strong and the direction of our lives will be taken over completely by political regulation.

Rebuke
Montreal Star
In a recent disquisition upon the exchange crisis the Editor of Saturday Night referred to "foreign mendicants" among the nations. This is an offensive description and Mr. B. K. Sandwell has been around long enough to know better. Even if it is denied that the recovery of the world is essential to North American prosperity and security the phrase embodies elements of condescension and of patronage completely out of keeping with the intentions of the United States. It confuses the poor man with the beggar, a snobbish identification as unwarranted as those European vapourings which defy American culture on the evidence of some thing Hollywood has turned out.

NEWEST OIL NEWS
Edmonton Journal
The newest news in the oil world is the big hunt that is being launched in the C.C.F. province of Saskatchewan. Already, three-quarters of the surface of the neighboring province has been covered by search and development permits. According to the Saskatchewan News, issued by the Bureau of Publications, Legislative Buildings, Regina, "the total area slated for oil search is believed to approximate 68,000, 000 acres."

The amazing part of the whole story is that the search is not being conducted by the socialist government but by United States capitalist oil interests.

(For DEWITT MACKENZIE)

ONE of the more thoughtful men I know is a Chinese, born and educated among Americans.

A man like that never quite belongs to either world. Life has put him on a fence between the two peoples he springs from. And from that fence he may see things coming before either world does.

This man was talking recently about the way Communism is sweeping over the land of his ancestors, China. He said: "Perhaps, without knowing it, Communism has climbed on the tiger of latent race hatred in Asia. That is its real threat to the world in the long view. . . . That it may be tempted to try what Japan tried, and failed to do—plunge the world into a racial war."

"Japan failed because China saw through her flimsy promises of an Asia for the Asiatics, and cast her lot with the West. But in this cold war China is falling on the other side, and as a colored people fighting for freedom from western control, she will affect all other colored peoples fighting for the same thing."

"The thing is," my friend went on, "Communism flows into this part of the world because nothing has replaced the once-great prestige of the white man."

"Communism's headache will come when the problem of retaining this vast new area of power becomes paramount. It has to satisfy Asia's highly varied peoples who today are buying its promises for a better world."

"I think Communism is too inflexible a doctrine ever to deliver on these promises. When its time comes to put up or shut up, Communism will answer in Asia by preaching hatred of the white man. Regardless of Moscow's pose of racial harmony, the local boys will beat the drums of race hatred just to stay in power. People will listen then as they listen now—because they are poor and know there must be something better than what they have."

"The danger will be all the greater unless the white man figures out some way to do a better job in Asia than Communism," my friend said.

VIEWPOINT BACKED
This talk took place some months ago, but recently its viewpoint has been backed up by Field Marshal Smuts of South Africa. Here is another man who has lived with the racial problem all his life. He sees the world as being in the middle of a century of revolution by the "colored" races of mankind.

All of Asia, Smuts recently told Ernie Hill of the Chicago Daily News, is throwing off white domination.

"Asia is Africa's neighbor," said Smuts. "We must rise to vision and magnanimity or we shall be wiped out with the march of world events."

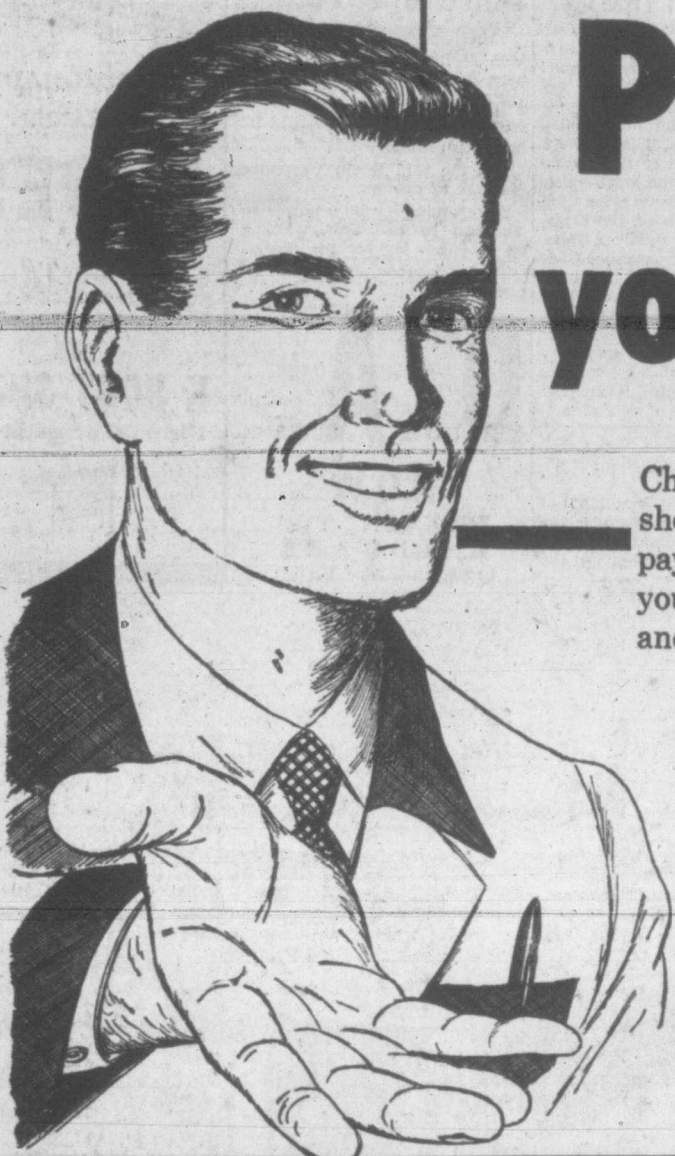

Smuts believes that if the richer but outmoded western half of the world faces the "facts of world change" and guides and helps the colored peoples to a better life, something more stable than Communism will result and the two worlds can live in peace.

The Chinese Communists cannot count on their own ability to control for long, as no power has been able to do in modern times, the sprawling mass of China, which has always digested every conqueror of the past. A fragmentation of the country under various local rulers, the repeated pattern of Chinese history for 2,000 years, is more likely than the success of the Communist government or a spontaneous general rising against it.

HAY FEVER AND ASTHMA

TWO NEW SPECIALIZED TREATMENTS

Azo and Respatone

Amazingly new and effective separate treatments for Asthma and Hay Fever have recently been developed. HAY FEVER: AZO is a saline for the relief of discomforts and distresses caused by Hay Fever. AZO comes in a tube with a special nozzle, which makes it easy to squeeze a little up each nostril to stop the sneezing and discharge with amazing speed, soothe irritated and inflamed membranes. A tube of AZO costs $1.50. If your Hay Fever is accompanied by difficult breathing, the sniffers at $3.00, which includes two tubes and special tablets, is recommended.

ASTHMA: Asthmatics are sceptical of results because of the large number of preparations they have tried out, so few claims are made here for Respatone Asthma tablets; but it is known Respatone gives excellent results in a very high percentage of cases. To take care of all budgets, Respatone is available in three sizes, 75c, $1.75 and the large economy $3.00. Azo and Respatone have been compounded by specialists in this field for over 30 years; and are distributed throughout Canada by Springwood Pharmaceuticals, Sanitation, B.C.

Get out this article to remind you to ask your druggist today—he can give you full information and will supply whichever treatment you require.

Czech Press Says Tito To Blame For Greek Reds' Loss

PRAGUE (AP)—The Czechoslovak press is blaming Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia for reverses suffered by Greek Communist guerrillas.

At the same time the Czech government announced it had expelled two officials of the Yugoslav Embassy here and a secretary on charges of distributing bundles of propaganda leaflets in the country.

The newspaper Lidove Noviny, organ of the Czech Writers Union, said Tito "opened his territory for the transit of Greek Monarchist troops, negotiated with the Athens government and, what is most dangerous, is trying to disintegrate the ranks of the Greek (guerrilla) fighters."

"Tito holds the banner of the Czechoslovak reactionaries," said the paper, declaring he had become a rallying symbol for those opposed to the Czech government.

The Yugoslavs expelled were Zdenko Stambuk, Counsellor of Embassy, Ivo Barbalich, chief of the Embassy's commercial section, and A. Popova, secretary to Barbalich.

The official press bureau said these officials "have been systematically conducting non-diplomatic activities constituting an unheard of interference with internal affairs of this country."

While travelling through the country, the bureau said, they tossed out bundles of pamphlets containing "propaganda against the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia and other people's democracies."

He was a former chairman of the Baptist Home Mission Board and western world treasurer of the Baptist World Alliance.

Born in Lindsay, Ont., in 1873, he started his business career with George Matthews Insurance Company of Lindsay and represented the firm in London, England, Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto.

20 Masked Bandits Seize Payroll Bus

CAGLIARI, Sardinia (Reuter)—Police Sunday night scoured the mountains near here for 20 masked bandits who killed four armed police in one of the worst highway robberies in Sardinia's violent history.

The outlaws, armed with tommy-guns and hand grenades, attacked from three directions a police convoy held up by a road block. Police who escaped all were wounded.

The bandits made off with 9,000,000 lire (about $15,000) from a bus the police were escorting. It was the payroll for hundreds of men working on dam-building.

Tears Fill Churchill's Eyes As Strasbourg Honors Him

STRASBOURG (Reuter)—Winston Churchill brushed tears from his eyes today when he replied to the mayor of Strasbourg after receiving the honorary citizenship of this picturesque, age-old city of many wars.

His voice trembled with emotion as he recalled his long association with France and emphasized that Anglo-French cooperation could open up a great prospect for the whole of Europe.

Churchill, here as one of the main architects of the new Council of Europe, spoke in the beautiful 18th century City Hall where the mayor and the councillors had met to honor Britain's wartime Prime Minister for the part he played in freeing Strasbourg from the Nazis.

After receiving the scroll, Churchill spoke in French from a city hall balcony to thousands of cheering people.

"You have paid me an incomparable compliment that I shall value for the rest of my life," he said. "Let us march together. Vive la France."

Earlier, to city officials at the ceremony, he said:

"If we stand together and work and think together in the future as we have in the past, a great prospect will open not only for Britain and France but to all Europe."

"Here in Strasbourg, on the frontier, is the seed and centre from which will be developed that European society which will embody the wisdom, culture and civilization of the great nations of Europe, and the great nations of the west."

"For over 40 years I have marched shoulder to shoulder with the French people and the French army. Many of those years have been war years. Nothing has ever occurred at any time that separated my sym-

Federal Government To Root Out Reds

LAKE COUCHICHING, Ont. (BUP)—The Canadian government today was ready to start removing Communists from positions of trust but would take care the move did not develop into a witch-hunt, External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson indicated during the week-end.

In an address before the 18th annual conference of the Canadian Institute of Public Affairs, Pearson said the Criminal Code would be strengthened, if necessary, to pave the way for a new drive against communism.

The minister admitted that Communist or Fascist treachery was hard to uproot because "those who practice it successfully are masters of deception."

After inspecting a guard of honor, Churchill delighted the waiting crowd outside by turning towards them and giving the "V" sign.

Colonial Development Part Of European Rehabilitation

WASHINGTON (CP) — The Marshall Plan has reached into British Africa and British Guiana in its drive to restore the economy of Europe.

Colonial development is part of the Economic Co-operation Administration's technical assistance program. The idea is that more industrial know-how and up-to-date agricultural methods in the colonies will hasten the rehabilitation of Britain herself.

E.C.A. consultant on colonial improvement is Canadian-born Dr. Ishiah Bowman, retired president of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md. He is a native of Waterloo, Ont., but moved to the United States with his family at an early age.

Dr. Bowman, now 70, is famous as a geographer, author, scientist and teacher. He has been called the United States' leading expert on geography.

FOUR PROJECTS
Four colonial projects are under way. The first, announced last April, sent a United States health expert and an insecticide expert to make a survey of conditions affecting control of sleeping sickness and malaria in East and West Africa.

Prevalence of sleeping sickness and malaria probably is the chief obstacle to development of potentially rich mineral and agricultural lands in dependent African areas, E.C.A. said.

Another African project is helping Britain make a survey in connection with a proposed railway link between Rhodesia and East Africa.

As in the case of the anti-disease project, costs are borne jointly by E.C.A. and the British government. E.C.A. pays the dollar costs; Britain handles all other expenses.

Three American agricultural experts have been assigned to a third African study—how to boost farm productivity in the colonies. These men will suggest how the United States can best contribute.

Fourth colonial undertaking is a three-month liaison in which two E.C.A. appointees will help the British Guiana government in its effort to increase rice production.

Chimpanzee Star At Rio For Week

From coast to coast children have been admirers of Cheeta, champion scene stealer of the movies.

Cheetah, who is a whole show in herself with her many comical acts, is a headline attraction now showing at the Rio Theatre for a week.

The dictionary calls the chimpanzee a small and less ferocious species of gorilla, one of the most intelligent of the monkey family and Cheeta, according to chimp standards, is brilliant.

Since the time she was born Cheeta has been trained and presented by Pinky Jackson.

25 Canadians To Attend U.N. World Resources Probe

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)—More than 550 scientists and experts, including 25 from Canada, are converging on United Nations headquarters where they will hold the first world-wide conference to fight waste of natural resources.

For three weeks starting Wednesday the representatives of 50 countries will exchange ideas and experiences on the methods of conserving and making the best use of food, forests, minerals, fuels and water power.

Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, Deputy Minister of Mines and Resources, leads the Canadian delegation. He will preside over the full session Thursday which will discuss "The World Resources Situation—A World Review of Critical Shortages."

Full sessions only will be held the first two days of the conference. Then the experts will meet in small groups on succeeding mornings where they will discuss their specialties.

The basis of discussion in the section meetings will be the 450-odd papers prepared on specific problems of conservation and utilization by scientists around the world.

Twenty-one Canadians have submitted papers.

They include Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of the Experimental Farm Service, who wrote on "Cropping Systems as an Aid to Sustained Production."

Other Canadian contributors include Stewart Bates, Canadian Deputy Minister of Fisheries; and H. W. Beall, chief of the Forest Protection Division.

Myers, 51, of Watford, Ont. The Korasis are scheduled to appear in court here Wednesday to face the charges.

Police Raid School Where Communism Taught In Quebec

MONTREAL (CP)—Quebec and Ontario provincial police joined forces Saturday night to stage a raid on an alleged Communist school located on the Quebec-Ontario border at Point Fortune, Que. Thousands of subversive pamphlets were seized in the raid.

Deputy director Hilaire Beauregard of the Quebec provincial police said Sunday night 35 persons were attending the English language version of the "Communist-tainted" classes held in a barn near Point Fortune.

Police ordered the persons in the barn to leave but no arrests or charges were made.

Members of the R.C.M.P. also took part in the raid which netted thousands of pamphlets and circulars which were branded as "subversive" under the Quebec padlock law. Director Beauregard said that courses at the "school" included study from books by Karl Marx, Engels, Lenin, Stalin and Tim Buck, national leader of the Labor Progressive Party in Canada. He said many of those attending the classes are members of the Labor Progressive Party.

Government Halts Transport To Keep Czechs From Church

TRNAVA, Slovakia (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church consecrated two new titular bishops before an overflow crowd Sunday, despite a transport blockade that halved the expected attendance.

The church hierarchy had defied an order by Czechoslovakia's Communist government that all such church ceremonies and pilgrimages must obtain prior government approval.

Pilgrims found Bratislava, the Slovak capital, a bottleneck on their journey to this city of 30,000. Trnava is about 30 miles northeast of Bratislava.

Railway agents advised travelers that no trains—express or local—were stopping in Trnava during the day because of "technical reasons." Sunday bus service was also eliminated.

Bratislava taxicab drivers refused to make the drive here. But 3,000 persons jammed into St. Nicholas Church to witness the ceremonies, and another 3,000 stood outside. Most of them were residents of Trnava. No uniformed police were visible.

All Czech and Slovak bishops were present except the Primate, Archbishop Joseph Beran, who has led the months-long fight against government control of the church. He remained in seclusion at his police-guarded palace in Prague.

The new bishops are Mgr. Ambrosius Lazik, who has been serving as apostolic administrator of Trnava, and Mgr. Robert Pobožny, capitular vicar of Roznava.

Both have expressed their loyalty to Archbishop Beran. They signed his last pastoral letter, issued June 26, which accused the Czechoslovak government of persecuting the church and attempting to crush religious liberty.

Under an unofficial agreement made before the war, the government claims the right to reject or approve any candidate for bishop proposed by the Vatican. However, Vatican diplomatic representatives said this issue was circumvented by the fact the two were made titular bishops, not bishops in residence.

Pink And White Motif Marks Fashionable Summer Wedding

The delicate blending of pearly white satin and blush pink taffeta, in the gowns of the bride and her two attendants, set the theme for the marriage Saturday evening of Miss Sylvia Pearl Abbott, daughter of Mrs. L. E. Abbott, Graham Street, and A. H. Abbott, Prospect Lake, to Ronald Melville Castner, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Castner, 2810 The Rise.

Repeating the pink and white theme were huge baskets of gladioli and tiny Colonial bouquets marking guest pews in First Baptist Church.

Immediately preceding the service conducted by Rev. G. R. Easter, Misses Ruth Veith and Gwen Phillips lighted candles on either side of the altar.

Mr. Abbott gave his daughter's hand in marriage.

Her satin gown reflected beauty of another era. The full circular hoop-skirt was mounted with overskirt of French lace and similar lace edged the long-sleeved sleeves. Finely-pleated French lace outlined the bodice, finished with transparent yoke.

A coronet headdress held drifting mists of sheer white net in the full-length veil to the bride's fair hair and she carried pink roses intermingled with tiny white blossoms in her circular bouquet.

Twin gowns in blush whisper taffeta, the off-shoulder necklines bordered in deep frills, and the slightly-hooped skirts in bustle mode, were worn by attendants, Mrs. R. C. Coles, matron of honor, and Miss Donna Abbott, bridesmaid for her sister.

Pink mitts and slippers and ribbon-trimmed halo hats were in tone, and they carried pink carnations and white sweet peas and carnations.

RING BEARER. Four-year-old Master Dennis Abbott, attired in gleaming white satin suit, bore the wedding ring tied with a slender ribbon to the white satin pillow.

R. E. Castner was best man for his brother. The foursome of ushers were Gerald McKel, Clifford Scroggie, Ronald Coles and David Munro.

Rev. Easter proposed the toast to the bride, at a reception in Loughheed's Banquet Hall.

Pink accessories and grey crepe afternoon frock were worn by Mrs. Abbott, and Mrs. Castner wore a navy blue ensemble with white accessories, as they assisted in receiving guests. Pink candles and vases of sweet peas created the setting for the three-tiered cake.

For a motor tour of Washington State and the interior of British Columbia, the bride donned a dusky rose gabardine suit, navy topcoat, and accessories and pink rosebud corsage bouquet.

The couple will be at home at 1150 Summit Avenue.

Regular business meeting, Victoria Purple Star Lodge, No. 104, L.O.B.A., Orange Hall, 725 Courtney Street, Wednesday at 8 p.m. Members to receive annual password.

Garden Reception Follows Nuptial Rites At Sidney

Bright flowers and green lawns formed the setting for a charming garden reception at the home of the bride's parents, following the Saturday afternoon wedding of Miss Nora Margaret Deveson and Peter John Roberts.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Deveson, John Road, Sidney, and groom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Roberts, Green Acres, Prospect Lake, are honeymooning at Spruce Lake, and later will go to Port Moody to make their home.

St. Paul's United Church, Sidney, was decked with gladioli in pastel tones for the ceremony conducted by Rev. E. S. Fleming.

Fragrant gardenias and white sweetpeas trailing with ferns and narrow white ribbons, composed the bride's bouquet. A golden locket, lent by her mother, graced the rounded neckline of her white chiffon velvet gown made with snug bodice, and lily point sleeves and slightly en train skirt fashioned with deep inverted folds.

A small coronet of seed pearls held her full-length veil of gossamer.

Bright daisy yellow and cornflower blue were the contrasting tones worn by a quartette of attendants.

In identical off-shoulder frocks of blue seersucker taffeta were matron of honor, Mrs. C. Levar, of Sidney, sister of the bride, and Misses Jessie Forbes and Donna Kennedy, as bridesmaids.

Yellow carnations and blue cornflowers were carried by the bridesmaids, and Mrs. Levar's bouquet was of pink roses. She wore a Juliet cap and chapel veil. Flower girl, Barbara Ruston, niece of the groom, was in full-skirted blue moire taffeta.

Peter Littlewood acted as best man and Charles Robert, and Arthur Deveson, brothers of the young couple, were ushers.

A close family friend, W. J. Gush, proposed the toast to the bride, at the reception. Mrs. R. Grant and Miss H. Roberts presided at the tea urns.

The bride's travel ensemble included navy blue suit, matching accessories, and corsage bouquet of gardenias. She wore her groom's gift, a cameo pendant, as her only jewelry.

Wedding Of Wide Interest Unites Navy Man And Nurse

A charming mid-August wedding of wide interest both in Calgary and Vancouver, was solemnized Saturday night at Queen of Peace Church, Esquimalt, when Roy Clark, R.C.N., took Miss Katherine Margaret McKenna, R.N., graduate of Holy Cross Hospital in the prairie city, for his bride.

The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William J. McKenna of Calgary, chose an afternoon frock of starched lace over crepe in delicate bride's blue, with dainty crystal buttons. Her accessories were of navy and she carried a shower bouquet of Johanna Hill roses, gardenias and stephanotis.

Her sole attendant was her niece, Miss Mary Claire McKenna, who wore a soft blue street-length frock with blue and pink floral halo and pink accessories. She carried a shower bouquet of Tallman roses, gladioli and stephanotis. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Clark of Vancouver and Nanaimo, was supported by his brother, Ernest Clark.

Father R. MacLean, chaplain of H.M.C.S. Ontario, read the marriage service.

Following the nuptials a reception was held at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel when Mrs. W. J. McKenna, sister-in-law of the bride, wearing navy with grey accessories, and Mrs. B. Clark, mother of the groom, in a rust ensemble, assisted the newlyweds in receiving the guests.

Father MacLean proposed the toast and the young couple cut the wedding cake with the groom's naval officer's sword.

Interests Of British Country Women Centre In Institutes

By EDWARD HODGKIN

Anyone who spends a few days in an English village will sooner or later hear a mention of two mysterious initials—the "W.I." One evening, perhaps his hostess will be absent from supper and his host will explain that "this is her night for the W.I." If he is an expert on any subject, he may be asked to talk to the W.I. on it.

By the time such an invitation crops up, the visitor if he did not know already will have discovered that W.I. stands for women's institute.

There is a women's institute in nearly all English villages—and in most Scottish and Welsh ones too—to provide a centre for social activities of every kind: theatricals, mothercraft, cooking, lectures, discussions and, not least important nor least valuable, conversation.

Each summer, delegates from the women's institute go to London for the conference of their national federation. It is a serious occasion for the delegates, who have a full-time program of debates and demonstrations, and in addition probably have to fit in dozens of commissions that their neighbours back home have passed on to them—clothes to be bought, and relatives to be looked up. Best of all, the conference serves as an opportunity for the pooling of ideas.

In view of the fact that women's institutes in Britain can claim as many as 400,000 members, it is fairly clear that there are plenty of ideas to pool.

ORGANIZATION

Each group of institutes is looked after by a voluntary county organizer, and from time to time individual members can go for a week or so to one of the short courses which are run at a country house in Berkshire, in the South of England, known as Denman College (after Lady Denman, first chairman of the National Federation of Women's Institutes).

The W.I. plays a unique part in the rural life of Britain. At its meetings political, religious and social differences are forgotten; the wife of the squire and her cook, the farmer's wife and the vicar's daughter, all meet and discuss matters of interest on terms of absolute equality. They run things the democratic way, electing their own officers to committees and voting on all matters of importance, such as the raising and spending of money.

The women's institutes were originally the outcome of a Canadian scheme which was adapted and introduced to Britain during the World War I. by the late Mrs. Alfred Watt, O.B.E., of Victoria. In the period between the two wars many other organizations started which have helped to transform the face of the countryside. There is the British Legion—a league of ex-Servicemen—which though not confined to the villages, plays an especially large part in them; there are also young farmers' clubs and village produce societies.

One thing which all these organizations used to have in common was the need for some place to meet and transact their business. This deficiency has been met by the construction in recent years of village halls, and the fact that these halls tend nowadays to be the rule rather than the exception is due partly to the energy and initiative of the villagers themselves, and partly to the generosity of the Carnegie Trust—a fund set up by the Scottish-born American steel millionaire Andrew Carnegie—which has provided grants and loans to villages wishing to build halls for themselves.

Doreen Wilson, Canada's top-ranking prima donna, returns to her native British Columbia this season to play her most famous role, Countess Louisa in the "Song of Norway" opening at the Starlight Theatre in the Memorial Arena on Thursday for three days.

Prior to her engagement here she has appeared with the Memphis Open Air Theatre, the Louisville Theatrical Association and the Pittsburgh Civic Light Opera Company, in the "Song of Norway." She played the role of the Countess on Broadway and for over a year with the touring company, and has appeared many times since in this great part.

A native of Victoria she acquired a reputation as a singer before she was 18. Going to Los Angeles to further her career, she was selected by Edwin Lester, general director of the Los Angeles Civic Opera Association for a singing role in "The Gypsy Baron." This led to her engagement in "Song of Norway" of which company she was a member for three years.

CALL IT A REST PERIOD—INSTEAD OF A NAP

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED
At about the time a child reaches the age of 2½ or 3 years, he begins to rebel at taking naps. In fact, at this generally "screaming" age, he rebels at everything and when he does not want to take a nap his behavior leaves no one in any doubt about the strength of his emotions.

This is a splendid time to institute the rest period. Then no pressure is brought upon the child to go to sleep. The very word is anathema to him. But, it should be explained, this is the time when everyone takes a rest, even his mother, if she can spare the time.

So into his room he goes. The sides of his crib are put down so that he has no excuse to scream and struggle to climb over them. The door of his room should be closed, or the gate on it fastened securely. He may have toys if he wishes. But, he must stay in his room, quietly, for at least one hour and if he wants to play or talk or sing to himself, no one will object.

The important thing is that he continues in this particular pattern of resting after the noon-day meal. There will be dark and gloomy days when he will fall asleep. If he does he should be out of bed by 3 o'clock, for lengthy daytime naps at this age may prevent his wanting, or being able, to go to sleep at the regular hour at night.

And this nice, "noontime rest period" need not be abandoned even after the fifth year. In winter time it is impossible because of school, but in summer, or holiday periods, the rest after lunch will work wonders with the child's disposition.

Children play vigorously all morning and come in to lunch exhausted. But would they admit it? The more tired they are the more wound up they seem to be.

Even if they proclaim that they detest resting, they can be wheedled into lying down for a short period and whether they fall asleep or not—and often they will—they will be in the better spirit to play pleasantly the rest of the day.

If the child is thin and eats poorly there could be no more valuable aid to a better appetite than short rests before each meal and a good rest in the middle of the day. There is more profit for children in these

Star Returns To Home Town $425 Realized At Garden Fete

The garden party held in the grounds at the Aged Women's Home Saturday afternoon, under auspices of Beta Sigma Phi City Council, realized a sum of $425 which will be used to buy special comforts for the home.

Miss M. Moran was general convener assisted by Mrs. Joyce Nicholls, Misses Margaret Walker, Isabel Hillendar, Kitty Cameron and Shirley Wallace.

Afternoon tea was served at small tables arranged on the flower-bordered lawn with members of the four local chapters of Beta Sigma Phi assisting as servitors.

A stall of knitted articles and fancy work made by those staying at the home and a stall of superlatives was convoked by Mrs. R. J. Jameson. Flowers were sold throughout the afternoon.

'Yearlings' Opens At Oak Bay Theatre

When "The Yearling," current attraction at the Oak Bay Theatre, was being filmed in Florida, workmen tore down an old cabin in the scrub to get building materials for the Penny Baxter homestead. Gregory Peck, Jane Wyman and Claude Jarman Jr. have the chief roles in the film version of the Pulitzer prize-winning novel.

PLAZA THEATRE

About a third of "The Blue Lagoon," now being shown at the Plaza Theatre, was filmed 12,000 miles away in the Fiji Islands. This, for a 19-year-old girl, is a long way from home—in Jean Simmons' case, Golders Green, North London. She was glad to get home, although the little house where she has lived for the greater part of her life has none of the luxuries expected in the homes of film stars.

UNFORTUNATE RETURN INSURES THIS SLAM

One of the most pleasing personalities I have met in quite a while is Don DeFore. He was in New York recently, having just completed a part in the movie, "My Friend Irma."

Don wants to come to New York in the fall and do a Broadway show. I told him that at that time we would have to arrange a bridge game with the rest of the cast of the picture.

We will put "Irma" in the North position. You may think it strange that South bid a club instead of a spade, but with this type of hand you generally will find the expert bidding a club instead of the five-card spade suit. This is done for the purpose of making it possible for the partner to bid a major suit.

In this case, "Irma," having a five-card spade suit, correctly bid a spade. When South bid four spades, "Irma" leaped to six spades, which could be called optimistic.

When West put the king of hearts on the opening lead, declarer won with the ace. The jack of spades was led. West won with the queen. West unfortunately returned a heart. Declarer now cashed the remaining 11 tricks, letting the opponents' ace of diamonds go to sleep.

Walcott Kayoes Tandberg

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Jersey Joe Walcott of Camden, N.J., knocked out Olle Tandberg, Swedish heavyweight champion, in the fifth round of their scheduled 12-round fight here Sunday. Walcott weighed 194 pounds.

The end came after 2 minutes and 30 seconds of the fifth round. Walcott felled the Swede with a terrific right-hand smash. Tandberg came up at the count of nine but another right sent him to the canvas for a full count.

The crowd of 43,000 was the largest crowd ever to witness a fight in Scandinavia.

After the bout, Walcott announced he wanted another shot at Ezzard Charles, who outpointed him in Chicago last June 22 for National Boxing Association recognition as world's heavyweight champion.

"I shall certainly beat Charles next time," said the New Jersey negro.

Jersey Joe, loser twice to Joe Louis in heavyweight title fights, said he planned to take a European exhibition tour to include Britain, Holland, Belgium, France and possibly Spain.

George Payne's 87 Marks Victory Of C's Over Ex-R.A.F.

With George Payne carrying his bat for a smart 87, the league-leading Five C's had no trouble defeating Ex-R.A.F. in Saturday's cricket match. The churchmen declared their innings at 139 for six wickets, then dismissed the Flyers for 16.

Jack Payne was the most deadly of the C's bowlers with four wickets for a like number of runs.

Runner-up Oak Bay turned back Cowichan. The Bays scored 152 runs for nine wickets and had Cowichan all out for 91. Jack Sparks with 46 runs was the high bat for Oak Bay, closely followed by R. F. Scott, with 39. Dyson paced the Cowichan eleven with 33.

Third place Incogs also got in the victory van by defeating Albions 93 to 30. Godfrey Wenman knocked out 31 runs to take scoring honors for the Incogs. J. Shanks with 11 not out was the only member of the Albions to reach double figures.

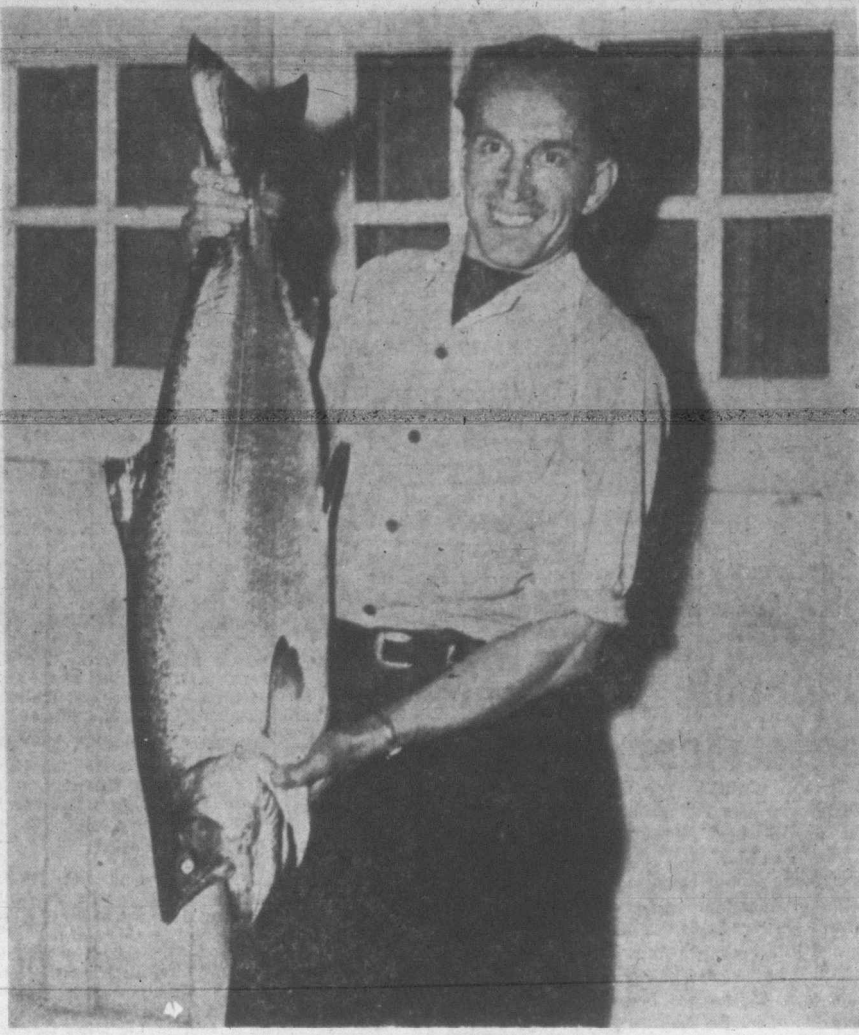

Sgt. Ashe Leading Marksman At Heals

Scoring 102 out of a possible 105 on the 200, 500 and 600 yard ranges, Sgt. A. E. Ashe of the Canadian Scottish topped a small field in the weekly practice shoot at Heals Range Saturday.

Largest Fish In Salmon Derby

Henry Schroyen displays the 26-pound salmon he landed in the international derby held at Saanich Inlet Sunday by the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association. It was the number one catch out Schroyen failed to get the prize of an inboard-powered boat owing to a dispute over the catch. However, it is certain that he will be declared winner of the derby at a meeting of the association directors tonight.

Dispute Holds Up Presentation Of Prizes In Big Salmon Derby

To clear up a "disputed point" officials of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association were forced to postpone announcement of prize-winners in the international salmon derby held Sunday at the inlet.

President Dave Gray told the crowd at the Anchorage the winners will be announced probably tonight after directors have heard the case in question.

Next derby on the 1949 schedule, the last of the year for those waters, will be held Aug. 28. It is the Chinook Club derby.

Whatever the outcome, Henry Schroyen, 1121 View Street, was the derbyist who weighed in the biggest salmon of the day. It was a 26-pounder that was really caught "the hard way."

Second heaviest salmon was hooked by Tom Mitchell, 675 Lamson Street. It was a button-winning 20-pounder, while Jack Clyde, 2824 Rockwell, placed third on the list with a specimen going 19 1/2 pounds.

First prize in the competition was a 12-foot inboard-powered boat.

After Clyde's entry, the weights dropped down to 11 1/2 pounds and to a low of eight pounds.

On the whole fishing was poor, many coming back skunked from a 10-hour hunt.

JUST MISSES

Incidentally, Jack Sparks would have qualified in the top awards had he managed to catch his 22-pound salmon a little earlier. He caught it after the derby finished, May Hall said.

Things were a bit hectic on the boat occupied by Schroyen and the Heglins around 10:30 in the morning after Schroyen had hooked into the big fellow in the Misery Bay area.

Here's Henry's story on the unusual "recovery" catch:

After 25 minutes he had almost got the fish up to gaffing distance when the played-out silver gave a final lunge for freedom—and made it, for a time. A kink just above the planer resulted in the line snapping.

Ann Heglin at the helm managed to steer the craft within a few feet of the drifting planer and Schroyen made an unsuccessful lunge with his hands.

The motor failed and the boat occupants saw their planer being towed away by the salmon.

Finally, however, the engine was started and the 75 to 100 feet of distance between the boat and the planer was quickly covered. In the bow Cliff Heglin gaffed the planer and Schroyen took hold of it and held on to the line until Lorne Heglin could gaff the fish and boat it.

Other derbyists who placed on the prize ladder were: 3, A. J. Margetish, 11,112 pounds; 4, Nairn Plaxton, 10,100 pounds; 5 and 6 (a tie), Bob Redgrave and T. Alexander with 10,033 pounds; 7, J. C. Parsons, 544 David, 9,122 pounds; 8, W. Logan, 2598 Penryn, 9,022 pounds; 9, C. Heglin, 857 Fort Street, 9 pounds; and 10, G. Mowat, 8 pounds.

First consolation prize, a chimes clock, was won by Gordon Smith, 2955 Cedar Hill Road. The second consolation, a pair of binoculars, was won by T. M. Roddie, 1587 McRae Avenue.

Two And Twenty In Longacres Victory; Ab Jr. Finishes Last

SEATTLE (AP) — Two and Twenty, owned by Frank W. Brewster of Seattle, romped home five lengths ahead of the field to win the $7,500 added Longacres Derby for three-year-olds in near record time Sunday.

The speedy chestnut fawn here three weeks ago from California streaked across the finish line in 1:49 3/5, only one-fifth of a second off the track record for a mile and one-eighth.

Canadians, who went home with pockets bulging last year when Victory Gift won and paid off in box-car figures, saw their three entries finish in the rank of the 10-horse field.

A. E. Forshaw's AB Jr., rated the best of the north-of-the-border trio, came in dead last. W. Howden's Scram On was a bad eighth and D. Rotary's Fourday finished ninth.

Two and Twenty not only packed the top weight of 120 pounds but the heaviest chunk of the betting money. He paid $4.40, $2.90 and $2.80. The K and L Stable's War Slave returned $3.90 and $3.60 for place, and Cecil Jolly's Washington-bred Sir Calbenor, a surprising third, brought $8.40.

The estimated attendance was 6,430 and mutual handle $265,969.

There have been no known cases of two people having identical fingerprints.

Palmer-Demaret Play Extra Round For Cash

CHICAGO (AP) — The Tam O'Shanter golf roulette got an extra twirl today, sending Johnny Palmer and Jimmy Demaret, a pair of high-powered money players, into a $17,000 championship playoff.

Seventy-two holes weren't enough to determine a winner of Promoter George S. May's fabulous $35,000 "world" tourney yesterday. Palmer and Demaret, charged in among the par-wreckers with 275-13 strokes under the Tam regulation.

Today's 18-hole showdown will pay the winner $10,000. Second place is worth $7,000.

In yesterday's mad scramble, Palmer grooved a pair of 35s for a respectable 70, two under par. Demaret, two hours earlier, had carved 33-34—67 for his 275. Then the fashion plate from Ojai, Calif., garbed in purple slacks and a lime-green sports shirt—began sweating it out to see what would happen.

SNEAD THIRD

Sam Snead, out in 35, needed a 33 coming in to win with 274. But the best he could do was 36 for a 71. However, he collected third prize of $5,000, boosting his golf earnings for the year to $30,593.

Buck White, the 54-hole leader with 205, ballooned to a closing 75.

The other brackets of May's world tournaments ended this way:

Women's Amateur — Grace Lenczyk, Hartford, Conn., 77 for 313; Dot Kietly, Long Beach, Calif., 78 for 314.

Women's Professional — Babe Didrickson Zaharias of Denver, Col., 79 for 301 and $1,100; Patty Berg of Minneapolis, 78 for 309 and $100.

Men's Amateur — Bill Campbell, Huntington, W.Va., with 73 for 290; John "Plek" Wagner, Chicago, with 71 for 291.

Eaglettes Victors

Eaglettes captured the Island junior girls' softball zone championship Sunday by trouncing Chez Marcel, 12 to 3, to take the two-game series. Marguerite Shaw hurled steady ball for winners and was backed by a home run by Shirley Knowlton.

Lift Suspension On B.C. Hockey Player

TORONTO (CP) — Two-year suspension of Guy Ludgate of the Kamloops Elks intermediate club, was lifted Sunday at a closed meeting of Canadian Amateur Hockey Association officers.

Ludgate was suspended by the British Columbia branch of the C.A.H.A. after he allegedly aimed a kick at a Nanaimo, B.C., player in an exhibition game last Jan. 28.

Athletics Break Hitting Slump To Blast Spokane; Ward Winner

Victoria Athletics broke out of their hitting slump with a bang at Spokane last night as the boys lashed out for 15 to 4. Victory moved the Athletics within 7 1/2 games of the fourth-place Wenatchee Chiefs in the W.I.L. camp.

Yakima had its league lead built back up to five and a half games thanks to Sunday wins in two tight contests. The Bears slipped Bremerton by scores of 2 to 1 and 2 to 0 to gain a full game on the idle Vancouver Caplans. Salem also turned in a twin bill sweep, whipping Tacoma 5 to 2 and 8 to 7 to move into sixth place ahead of Bremerton.

With second baseman Gil McDougald, shortstop Gordon Johnston and third sacker Johnny Hack showing the way the Athletics turned their big guns on four Spokane hurlers.

A's and Spokane play the second game of their five-game series tonight.

A's wound up their important series here with Wenatchee Saturday by dropping both games, 9 to 6 and 4 to 3. In the afternoon engagement, first baseman Clint Cameron took over the slugging chore for the Chiefs as he clouted a pair of home runs and drove in four runs including the deciding tally. Frank Logue started for the A's but left in the second after giving up five runs. Frank LaBrun took over and was charged with the loss as the Victoria club picked up four runs in the fourth to tie the score 6 to 6. Lou McCollum got credit for the win.

The night affair was a tight one all the way with tough luck

Tobey Tobias getting charged with the loss. Winning run came in the seventh inning after base umpire Carl Sandt made an obvious bad call on a force play at second base. That runner later scored what proved the clincher. Veteran southpaw Cy Greenlaw looked sharp in getting the win. He struck out an even dozen.

Richardson Of Victoria Earns Berth On Canadian Bisley Team

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March (CP) — Lt.-Col. Stephen Johnson, a sharp-shooting six-foot two-inch insurance man from Calgary, won the Governor-General's prize Saturday in a two-way shoot-off that held hundreds of spectators breathless.

It was west against east when Col. Johnson and Maj. G. C. Baker of Kentville, N.S., were tied after 35 rounds in the final match of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association shoot on Connaught Ranges, 14 miles west of Ottawa.

Both had fired 170's out of a possible 175. The eighth, Col. Johnson scored a bull's-eye and Maj. Baker an inner.

It was a tense moment for Maj. Baker when his second shot was reported to have missed the target but a re-check showed he had fired a bull. A miss would have lost him the prize then.

A wind that blew across the ranges in puffs and shadows cast by clouds contributed hazards to accurate shooting. Otherwise the weather was clear.

"That's the thrill of a lifetime," said the grinning colonel as he accepted a gold watch and autographed portrait of the Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, from Resources Minister Gibson.

The colonel knows his guns. He was in charge of all rifle training in Canada during the Second World War and is author of the official training manual, "Shoot To Live," adopted by the Canadian Army. He wrote the manual during the war.

The Governor-General was represented by his secretary Maj.-Gen. H. F. G. Letson.

One hundred and fifty marksmen qualified for the event Thursday. The match added the final touch to a week of shooting by more than 600 devotees of the 303 calibre service rifle for 65 cups, trophies, shields and other prizes.

The match counted towards aggregate scores that decided members of Canada's Bisley team that will participate in the Empire shoot in England next year. The top 18 snipers are automatically chosen.

TEAM SELECTED

They are Sgt. G. B. Kay, Hamilton, Ont.; Cadet-Capt. G. S. Boa, Toronto; Maj. D. T. Burke, Lansing, Ont.; Maj. A. F. Gormley, Charlottetown, P.E.I.; Maj. A. J. F. Roberts, Winnipeg; Flt. Sgt. J. R. Sullivan, Edmonton, Alta.; Cpl. J. H. Blais, Montreal; Capt. R. W. Hampton, Ottawa; Maj. G. C. Baker, Kentville, N.S.; Maj. R. C. McLeod, Toronto; Lieut. James G. Boa, Toronto; SSM. Martin Ostergaard, Calgary; Sgt. W. Sutherland, Ottawa; Bdr. F. E. Richardson, Victoria; WO. J. A. Draper, South Porcupine, Ont.; Sgt. W. V. Hall, Ottawa; WO. E. E. Wright, East Stanbridge, Que.; Sgt. Harold Wall, Toronto.

The scores ranged from 762 down to 749 out of a possible 805. If some should be unable to make the trip to England next year, the next highest on the Bisley aggregate list will be eligible. They include Cpl. A. T. Sharp of Edmonton.

L. F. Moore of Aberdeen, Md., placed third in the Governor-General's match. But the rules stipulate that the first four places must go to members of the armed forces and he was ranked fifth. He also placed third in the Bisley aggregate but is not eligible for Canada's Bisley team.

Edmonton Mercurys Represent Canada In Hockey Tourney

TORONTO (CP) — Edmonton Mercurys will represent Canada in the world hockey championships in London next March.

This was announced here today by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association following a two-day closed meeting.

Mercurys are western Canada intermediate champions.

An outright gift of $5,000 to the Canadian British Empire Games Association to help defray expenses of sending a 62-man team to the New Zealand Games next February also was announced.

"We realize that some athletes and the organizations to which they belong haven't the facilities to raise money and we are glad to be able to help them out," president Al Pickard of Regina said in an interview. He stressed that the final okay is needed by the C.A.H.A. executive but said he was confident it would go through.

Pickard said the meeting also recommended that Memorial Cup finals, to be played in the east, will start no later than April 22 and the Allan Cup finals, to be played in the west, will start no later than April 29.

Semi-annual meeting of the association will be held in Montreal January 6 and 7.

"We have stipulated that the Edmonton club must satisfy the association it is of calibre to represent Canada adequately," Pickard said. Plans are that the team will leave Canada at the end of December for a three-month tour of Europe and Britain and return home late in March or early April.

The team will play 32 exhibition games apart from the world tournament.

Stella Walsh Hangs Up Running Taps At 38

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Stella Walsh, 38, who knew all the glory of track, hung up the spiked shoes today—for good.

The great Polish runner bowed out Saturday night as age and the strain of more than 20 years of competition caught up with her.

She went down fighting. It was a weary swan-song as she was stripped of all her titles in the national women's senior A.A.U. track and field meet.

Tiremen Gain Finals By Blasting Loggers

Tiremen will meet the winner of the Chinese Students-Brentwood Aces semifinals in the deciding round.

Prior Hurls Eagles To Shutout Victory; Second Game Tonight

Playing before a pro-Navy crowd at Colville Road Saturday night, Eagles scored an easy 10 to 0 decision over the sailors in the opening game of their best-of-three semifinal series for the Rithet Cup, emblematic of the city amateur baseball championship.

Second game of the series is billed tonight at Beacon Hill Park, commencing at 6:15. Series winner will tackle the Boosters, who disposed of Pitzer and Nex in the other semifinal in straight games.

Bill Prior had little trouble with the Navy hitters and permitted only three runners to reach third base in hurling the shutout. He gave up five singles, took 16 on strikes and issued eight free tickets to first.

Birdmen shelled southpaw Tony Bishop from the mound in the opening frame with a five-run outburst. Little Geoff Worral, who opened at the short patch, took over and finally retired the side. He held the Eagles off the scoreboard for the next two frames, but they came back to score once in the fourth and three times in the fifth.

Final tally came in the seventh when Denny Fawcett opened with a bingle and scored later on manager Ted Parkins' triple.

Right fielder Ken Sturrock paced the batters with three singles in four trips while Frank Carson went two for three.

Brooklyn Back On Top In Hot National Race

It was just seven weeks ago that Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees wrote off the Boston Red Sox. Then they had suffered eight defeats in a row and were in fifth place in the American League, 12 games behind the Yanks.

Now the Red Sox have made up two-thirds of the ground on the Yankees and are in second place. They now trail the Yanks by only four games.

Yesterday the Sox overpowered the cellar dwellers, powered Washington Senators twice, 14 to 3 and 9 to 3. The Yankees whipped Philadelphia 5 to 2 in the first game of a doubleheader but the Athletics came back to win the second game 4 to 3.

Brooklyn Dodgers regained the lead from St. Louis in the tight National League race, winning from Boston, 7 to 2, while Pittsburgh was trouncing the Cardinals 4 to 0. This turn of events put the Dodgers one game in front of the Redbirds.

The third-place New York Giants remained 12 full games off the pace despite their double victory over Philadelphia Phils, 8 to 1 and 1 to 0. Cincinnati Reds came out on top in the

18th VICTORY

Boston's Mel Parnell, the major's biggest winner, turned in his 18th triumph with a seven-hitter in the opener. Dom DiMaggio sparked the eight-hit attack against Dick Welk and two relievers with a home run and two singles. Junior Stephens hit his 31st homer in the nightcap with two aboard against Montreal's Paul Calvert, who suffered his 10th straight loss. Jack Kramer went all the way for his third win.

Alex Kellner scored his 15th victory of the year with a five-hitter for the A's in the second game. A triple by Pete Suder in the seventh off Allie Reynolds, sent in Ferris Fain with the winning run. Bob Porterfield bested Lou Brissie in the opener, but needed help from Joe Page in the eighth.

The third-place Cleveland Indians advanced to within five games of the top by winning both ends of a doubleheader from Chicago White Sox, 4 to 3 and 5 to 0. Bob Lemon hurled his 14th victory in the opener, and Garcia his 10th in the nightcap.

In Brooklyn's victory over Boston, Joe Hatten, third Dodger hurler, allowed three hits in four and a fraction innings to gain his 11th triumph. Johnny Sain was charged with his 13th loss.

Collision Marks Play At Plate

Glove, sponge and catcher Ray Mueller got flying when hit by Hal Jeffcoat of the Chicago Cubs, forcing the New York Giants' catcher to leave the game with an injured leg. The Chicago center fielder scored on Emil Verban's fly out to Sid Gordon. Cubs won 6 to 5.

Keen Competition Marks Firing At Victoria Gun Club

Clarke Atchison, Roger Monteith and Dr. A. B. Bechtel and Ted Bailey were the featured figures on the trap and skeet layouts at the Victoria Gun Club grounds Sunday when leg honors were shot for in the year-long competitions.

Atchison scored his second leg victory in the Humber Handicap Trophy race on the trap ranges by topping the field with 22-25. Monteith, who blasted 22 of 24 targets to win the leg in the Zaccarelli Doubles Trophy competition, was pitted against Atchison in the fight for leg honors in the Colson Cup trap and skeet competition. The pair went three extra rounds before Atchison finally emerged on top at the 25-yard mark.

GREAT BATTLE

On the skeet ranges, keenest competition of the day was seen. For the leg of the C.I.L. Shield, Bailey, Bechtel and Henry Pottinger topped the shooters by scoring 25 straight. They went into a shootoff and while Pottinger muffed a pair Bechtel and Bailey again came through with perfect scores, making it 50 straight for each. They decided to leave it there for the present and will shoot off at a later date.

Bob Hutchison Double Winner At Seattle Meet

Australian Net Stars Impressive In Defeating Italy

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—The Australians are "in," and now the United States Davis Cup selectors face the task of naming a set of American tennis players who can turn back the invaders for the third straight time in the challenge round Aug. 26-27 at Forest Hills.

This is a better Aussie squad than the one which stumbled to an ignominious 5 to 0 defeat a year ago.

It has, among other things, a blonde 22-year-old giant named Frank Sedgman who probably has developed faster than any other player in the world in the last year.

American observers were greatly impressed watching him toy with Marcello Del Bello, Italy's No. 2 player, 6-0, 6-4, 6-4, as the Aussies wrapped up the inter-zone final against Italy yesterday.

Later he gave a similarly fine exhibition of doubles play in pairing with John Bromwich to defeat Del Bello and Gianni Cuccilli, 2-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1, in the decisive match. Having won the first three matches, the Australians were in position to relax in today's concluding singles.

Week-ends are wonderful for the Hollywood Stars, Coast League leaders.

Time and time during the season challengers have narrowed the gap on the pace-setting Stars during the week but week-end double bills have a way of working to the Stars' advantage.

Sacramento was within 4½ games of Hollywood Friday but the margin is back to 5½ today. Sunday, the Stars dropped the first game with Portland 8 to 3, but took the second 7 to 1.

Los Angeles, meanwhile, took the opener from Sacramento 7 to 3 and a 12-inning finale 3 to 1. Oakland, only six games behind Hollywood, split a pair with Seattle. The Acorns belted a 7 to 0 shutout in the opener. The Rainiers won the nightcap 3 to 2.

San Francisco and San Diego divided two games. The Padres won the nightcap 3 to 2 after the Seals won the opener 9 to 3.

First Game—R. H. W. Oakland 7 to 1. Seattle 7 to 0. Nelson and Kerr; Beese, Oppiger (8) and Warh.

Second Game—R. H. W. Portland 8 to 3. Hollywood 7 to 1. Candell and Kerr; Karpel and Orasso.

Third Game—R. H. W. Portland 8 to 3. Hollywood 7 to 1. Candell and Kerr; Karpel and Orasso.

Ernie Spaulding Sweeps Car Races At Langford Speedway

A one-man show at Langford Speedway "International auto races Saturday night saw Seattle's Ernie Spaulding set a new track record in time trials, win the Helmet Dash and first heat races hands down, and rocket through the 30-lap main event to take top money.

Spaulding, brother of the local No. 1 car driver, Jack, was at the throttle of the No. 9 car which formerly was the No. 5 car used by "Don" Oide. Seattle to set a track record of 17.50 seconds for a single circuit last year.

Spaulding wheeled the little odd-direc car in 17.51 seconds on the second lap of his three-lap time trial, cutting .19 seconds off Oide's mark.

He had little trouble winning the five-lap dash and eight-lap heat race, starting in the pole position in both events.

But in the main event the story was a little different. He was back in 11th position at the start of the 30-lap race, and the stuff ahead of him was fairly rough.

MOVES AHEAD
Despite the competition Ernie was rolling in second spot at the end of the fifth lap, and he moved into top position on the ninth to hold tight the rest of the distance.

Finishing second in the feature was brother Jack who started in third position. Third was Don Hale, Seattle, in No. 96, who started 10th; fourth was Pike Green, Seattle, driving the local No. 12; fifth was Bob Simpson back in his No. 6 and sixth was Bung Eng in the sleek No. 7.

Some great driving was displayed by Hale who looked good the whole evening. His car was fast but didn't have the stuff Spaulding's No. 9 had under its bonnet.

Digger Caldwell, driving Jack Smith's No. 36 car, was showing well in the main up to the 25th lap when right rear wheel trouble developed and he dragged into the pits shooting sparks.

RUSH REPAIRS
Both Jack Spaulding and Eng had car trouble early in the program but repairs were rushed so they could get in the 30-lap tussle. Spaulding threw a front wheel through the fence after finishing his time trial.

Hale and Green finished second and third respectively in the helmet dash and first heat race. Caldwell won the second heat race with Simpson second and Harold Brown in the Victoria No. 9 third.

Bert McLeod won the third heat in No. 54 while Corky Thomas rolled No. 27 in second and Ken McMurray drove No. 3 third.

Jack Spaulding romped home first in the fourth heat race. Eng was second and Eddie Kostenuk in No. 60 was third.

SCHRIENER SIGNED
SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—Sweeney Schriener, one-time National Hockey League great, has been signed by North Sydney Victorias of the Cape Breton Senior Hockey League, club officials said Saturday. Lex Cooke was signed as coach six weeks ago.

Suspect Youngster Engineered 'Jail Break' For Dogs

Four dogs "arrested" earlier by city poundman Alex Kennedy gained their freedom from the city pound in a "jail-break" engineered during the week-end.

The poundman reported that some person "on the outside" provided them with the escape route.

Constable Richard Ward found the dogs torn off the pound door, the doors of the pens standing open and not a canine in the place.

Poundman Kennedy says he suspects that one of the "prisoners" was owned by a youth who lacked the wherewithal to win its release and resorted to forcibly entering the pound.

Souvenir Collector Enlists City's Aid

Miss Rugby Holan of San Francisco has enlisted the city's aid in buying souvenirs.

In a letter to the city clerk, she said she had bought a whisk broom with a leather souvenir cover. She lost it and now wants to know the name of the store where she bought it so that she can purchase a replacement and perhaps several additional ones.

She also asked for maps of Victoria and Vancouver Island.

Smart Fashion Show Highlights Closing Event At Playfair

A fashion show, complete with bridal party highlighted the closing event at Playfair Park playground, attended by more than 100 children and many parents and friends in Lake Hill Hall.

Under Miss Doris Fleming, supervisor, children attended the playground for a five-week period.

In the bridal party were: Doreen Woods, Shirley Fulton, Jacqueline Galloway, Marie McKay, Judy and Jerry McKay, Denise and Allen Holmes.

Under direction of Mrs. Frank Farrow, supervisor of Saanich Playgrounds, little girls wearing old-fashioned costumes presented a program of folk dancing. Boys and girls in the tumbling class dressed as clowns to delight the audience with their antics.

A decorated vehicle and costume parade was another feature, with prizes being presented to Linda Snider, Barry Lidstone, Mary Elizabeth Walker, Alma Snider, Beverly Lidstone and Joy Allen.

Winning trophy cups for citizenship were Margaret Coppin and Richard Games. Mrs. C. McKay, chairman, made a presentation to Miss Fleming, on behalf of the playground committee. Michael Ridout presented corsage bouquets to Miss Fleming and Mrs. Farrow.

A penny carnival, home cooking stall, bingo, fish pond, games of skill and fortune telling rounded out the day.

Want Sidewalk On Fairfield Road

The city today was asked to construct a sidewalk on Fairfield Road from Foul Bay Road to the city limits.

W. F. Cresall, 391 Irving Road, said that adults and children at present had difficulty walking up the hill due to present traffic conditions and the absence of a proper walk for pedestrians.

He was supported in his application by G. Clifford Carl, 410 Queen Anne Heights.

New Minister On Job

Capt. John Cates, B.C.'s new labor minister, took over temporary offices in the Speaker's Chambers at the Legislative Buildings today and began work immediately delving into the many branches of his department to familiarize himself with his new position.

He arrived in the capital on the morning boat from Vancouver and has not decided yet if he will bring his family to reside here from his North Vancouver home.

"I would like to say," the new minister stated, "that I hope to bring about a better understanding between labor and management. Better relations in B.C. industry would be to the advantage of the people of the province generally. I promise co-operation to all parties. I am here to help in every way possible to bring about better relations in B.C. industry."

One of Labor Minister Cates' first jobs will be to deal with the demands for revamping of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

During the June election campaign, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer, who then was Labor Minister also, announced he had asked Chief Justice Gordon Sloan to act as a royal commissioner investigating the present Compensation Act and recommend improvements.

Later Mr. Wismer said it would be left to Mr. Cates to decide what course would be followed.

Ownership Change Has Not Helped Goldstream Park

A change of ownership does not seem to have helped the faltering successes of Goldstream Park.

Turned over to the province by the City of Victoria this April, Goldstream Park's city-built tearoom still is boarded up and offers no solace to the picnicker or tourist despite the hope of some city officials that the province would do something to make the park a success.

The area first came into city hands when Victoria took over the Goldstream waterworks in 1926. It later was taken over by the Greater Victoria Water District which recommended the city turn the park over to the parks division of the B.C. Forest Service. This was approved by the city in April.

However, it has meant no change for the better at the park. The tea room this year has remained boarded up, a state in which it found itself a number of times during its history as one tea room operator after another gave up his concession rented from the city.

Saanich Irrigation Ruling Now In Effect

Saanich regulations requiring farmers to take out permits to use water for irrigation went into effect today by order of the provincial cabinet.

A by-law passed by the municipal council Aug. 2 was approved by order-in-council.

The regulations are effective between May 1 and Sept. 15 each year.

They state that water must not be used during the period for purposes other than domestic.

The municipal council has the power to modify the provisions of the by-law. If it can be shown that the restriction will result in a pecuniary loss to any person earning his livelihood by growing foodstuffs, flowers or plants, the council may instruct its engineer to issue a permit allowing use of water for irrigation.

The engineer must specify the times of day when irrigation may be undertaken.

The irrigation permits can be canceled by the council without notice.

30 Days In Jail For Illegal Possession

A 30-day jail sentence was imposed against Wilfred Kourie, 312 Douglas Street, by Magistrate A. I. Thomas in city police court today. Kourie was found guilty on a charge of illegal possession of a suit of clothes owned by Able Seaman Norman R. Nelson, well-knowing the same to have been stolen.

On Friday night Nelson telephoned the police station asking for officers to attend at the Douglas Roller Gardens. Constables Robert Morris and George Buckle attended and Nelson identified an $82 suit being worn by Kourie as the clothes stolen from his locker at 312 Douglas earlier in the month.

Kourie told the court he had bought the suit from a man named "Art," who needed money to go on leave. Accused said he did not know the suit was stolen property.

Permit Issued For $27,000 Apartment

Permit for a $27,000 six-suite, apartment was taken out for J. Henson, at the city building inspectors' office today.

Mr. Henson, a contractor, said work on the building would commence immediately. He expects it will be completed in four months.

The apartment, which will be erected at 1111 Chapman Street, will have three garages in the basement. D. C. Frame is the architect.

A fine of $5 was imposed against Robert A. Hocking, 846 Viewfield Road, when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of riding a passenger on the crossbar of his bicycle Aug. 7.

Court Of Appeal Raises Damages Against B.C.E.R.

Appeal Court in a written judgment handed down today raised the total damages recoverable by George Reid Clark against the B.C. Electric Co. from $1,580 to $7,852.

Reid at the last sitting of the Appeal Court appealed against a judgment of Supreme Court Justice N. W. Whittaker, who awarded him $1,580 for injury to his left hand. He lost partial use of his hand when it was caught in a streetcar door on Dec. 18, 1943.

Mr. Justice Whittaker did not allow damages for a dupuytren contracture, which according to Reid, resulted from the injury. This contracture deprived him from using his fingers to a great extent.

The judge held that there was no definite scientific proof that dupuytren contracture could arise from a physical injury.

It was pointed out that while some medical authorities believed that the contracture was due to injury there were a whole series of men who believed that it might have something to do with either local or general infection. Some believed it was hereditary.

The Appeal Court felt that the plaintiff did not have to prove conclusively that the contracture resulted from the injury.

"There is no such degree of proof upon the plaintiff in a civil action," wrote Justice C. H. O'Halloran. "He is required to go no further than the balance of probabilities."

The Appeal Court judge pointed out that medical evidence from witnesses for the B.C.E.R. did not advance any theory as to how the contracture developed. There was no evidence that the contracture had developed from local infection or otherwise.

Of the three doctors who testified for the B.C.E.R., the judge said, one doctor had never examined the plaintiff. The other had only examined his hand before the trial.

In civil law, the judge said it remained only for the plaintiff to prove the balance of probabilities. In this case Reid had proved that the contracture could only have resulted from the injury.

Egg Prices Drop 5 Cents a Dozen

Eggs dropped five cents a dozen today, marking the first price decline in several months.

Grade A eggs, which have been selling during past weeks for as high as 77 cents a dozen, will now be available at 70 cents in some stores and 72 in others.

A surplus of eggs in Alberta and buyer resistance to the high price in B.C. are given as reasons for today's drop. B.C. eggs are still scarce.

City Library Workers To Attend U.B.C. Conference

Miss Margaret Clay, head of the Victoria Public Library, will be among 12 members of the staff who will attend a part or whole of the annual conference of the western region of the American Library Association, which opens Aug. 22 to 26 on the University of British Columbia campus.

The conference, expected to draw 800 to 1,000 library workers, is a joint one, with the first three days for the western region and the last two for the Pacific Northwest Library Association.

Miss Clay who will attend all sessions as a member of the council of the American Library Association, will be accompanied by Miss Muriel Lang, on the executive of the Pacific Northwest Library Association, and Miss Georgianna Wilson.

Other members of the staff who will attend one or more sessions are: Miss Hazel King, Miss Jean Porter, Mrs. Isabel Robinson, Miss Isabel Pike, Miss Peggy Pepper, Miss Bertha Davis, Miss Elizabeth Bird and Keith Little.

Miss Catherine Firth will attend a pre-conference film institute Sunday in Vancouver.

The opening session of the conference Monday morning on the subject "The Library's Public" will set the theme for the week.

Dr. Robert D. Leigh, director of the Public Library Inquiry, made by the Social Science Research Council of the United States, will introduce the subject. Dr. Bernard Berelson, dean, Graduate Library School, University of Chicago, will give an address.

Leading the discussion will be Miss Clay and Aubrey Andrews of the Tacoma Public Library.

During the week, the Pacific Northwest Library Association will celebrate its 40th anniversary with a dinner.

Schedules will be staggered at the Victoria Public Library to enable the staff to attend the various sessions of interest to them.

Dr. E. W. McDiarmid, president of the American Library Association, will be among those attending the conference.

Education Minister W. T. Strath, K.C., will welcome delegates to the conference, on behalf of the provincial government.

Many East Indians Mark Independence In Island Ceremony

Second anniversary of India's independence will be marked by colorful ceremonies when more than 500 East Indians from all parts of the island arrive at Mesachie Lake at Hillcrest, near Duncan, today for the official opening of the company-sponsored Sikh Temple at the lumber company town.

It will be the largest gathering of East Indians since the inauguration of Victoria's Sikh Temple in 1912.

East Indians from Calgary and United States centres will join with Victoria and Island Sikhs for the religious ceremony at Hillcrest.

Praise for Mahatma Gandhi was given Sunday by Bishan Singh, secretary of the local Sikh Temple, before he left for up-Island.

"Gandhi was among the greatest men of this age," said Bishan, 65-year-old Punjabi who came to Victoria in 1907. "He is an example to men everywhere—not only in India, but all over the world."

Roadbed Gives Way Causing Derailment

KAMLOOPS (CP)—A soft spot in the roadbed near Ashcroft sent 31 Canadian Pacific Railway freight cars careening off the rails in a freak accident Sunday.

No one was injured. The engine and six cars rolled safely over the weakened rails but the weight of cars following apparently caused the bed to collapse and sent them off the track, C.P.R. officials said.

Trains were rerouted over Canadian National Railway lines while the derailed cars were put back on the tracks and the roadbed repaired.

Token Rail Strike Causes No Trouble

LONDON (AP)—A token strike Sunday on part of the nationalized British railways failed to disrupt train traffic.

Workers at a locomotive depot in Grantham, Lincolnshire, had called for a Sunday-only strike, protesting what they termed "victimization" of a train crew. Other railway centres refused to follow the Grantham lead.

Strike leaders said the crew had been suspended because they refused to work shifts requiring them to spend the night away from home. The British railways executive denied this.

Explosion Kills 15

ROME (AP)—A 75-year-old woman trudged into the main piazza of Verbania, unstrapped a knapsack from her back and started to walk away. The knapsack exploded. The blast killed the woman and injured 15 other persons. Police said the knapsack probably contained TNT, a high explosive, for use by poachers.

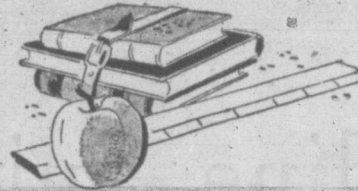

Woods Accident Costs Young Logger His Life

CAMPBELL RIVER—Injuries received in a logging accident Friday resulted in the death here Saturday of John Brian Barber, 23, of New Westminster.

At the time of the accident, Barber was employed by Bloedel, Stewart and Welch at Camp Five. Details are not yet available, but it is believed the logger was struck by a falling tree.

The Finns take a hot steam bath and follow it with a snow rub down.

Pleasant surprises are due for ???

1. School Boys and Girls—because life insurance dollars, invested for policyholders in government bonds, are helping to build more practically designed, splendidly equipped new schools in communities from coast to coast!

2. Workers in some of the nation's vital industries which are expanding as a result of invested life insurance dollars. These new plants are creating many new jobs!

A Helpful Citizen in Your Community

These aids to better living are founded on the work of the life insurance representative. It is largely because of his efforts that so many people buy life insurance and pay premiums—the major part of which is invested in vital projects that benefit Canadians in countless communities.

Thus the life insurance representative is more than a helpful advisor on financial security. He's a helpful citizen, too!

3. Farmers. Invested life insurance dollars are helping to extend electrical power into more rural areas to do many hard jobs, make home life more comfortable and convenient.

4. Motorists—who will find driving smoother and safer on the fine new roads and highways that life insurance dollars are helping to build throughout the nation.

5. Everybody! Because investments of life insurance dollars also help build water systems, power plants, harbours, recreation centres and other projects vital to community welfare.

Each year, life insurance companies invest in Canada more than 200 million dollars in these useful ways!

So life insurance serves a double purpose: It provides financial protection for you and your family. And it helps create a higher standard of living in which you share!

Tacoma Rockets Buy Three From Rangers

TACOMA (BUP)—Coach Murray "Muzz" Patrick of the Tacoma Rockets, Tacoma's entry in the Pacific Coast Hockey League, today announced the outright purchase of three players from the parent New York Rangers.
The trio, Pee Wee Read, George Robinson and Doug Toole, played with the Rockets last season.
Patrick said the purchase of the three men brought to 11 the number of Tacoma-owned players who will definitely be on the club's 1949-50 roster. The balance of the line-up is unsettled.
The Rockets open Pacific Coast Hockey League play Oct. 8, with a home game against the Vancouver Canucks.

Little Time Left To Reach Marshall Plan Objectives

PARIS (UP)—Economic co-operation administrator Paul G. Hoffman warned Europe today that there is "breathlessly" little time left if Marshall Plan objectives are to be reached by 1952.
He called for "bold and daring measures" to prepare for the time when American aid will cease.
"The beginning stage of a strong and durable European economy is in the making," he said at a press conference.
"But I would not be candid if I did not say that the tasks ahead are even greater than those behind us. And that the time in which to accomplish them is breathlessly short."

Citing the essential purpose of the European Recovery Program as the elimination of extraordinary aid by 1952, Hoffman said: "It can be done, but there is no doubt that it will take bold and daring measures to do it."
He mentioned as examples of these measures the increased capacity of Europe to earn dollars and the "dramatic progress toward the economic unification of Europe."

Dads Change Minds On Carrying Out Order To Whip Sons

WHITBY, Ont. (CP)—Percy Cross and Nicholas Culetta, the two fathers who announced Saturday they would refuse to carry out a magistrate's order to whip their sons, changed their minds today. The boys pleaded guilty Friday to stealing 22 bottles of beer.

Following a visit from police chief John Irvine of Pickering, both fathers said they were inclined to look at the whippings in a different light. Neither wanted to use the laths but neither wanted more trouble with the law.
Saturday the chief visited the Culetta home to see that Magistrate Russell P. Locke's order that each boy received 10 strokes of the lath was carried out. Culetta's 14-year-old son was not at home, however.
At the Cross home he found 17-year-old Ronald was home but as Sunday visitors were present the whipping was postponed.

Island Cities Join Investigation Of Source Of Tokens

Use of hundreds of slugs in parking meters and continual raids by thieves have resulted in police concentrating their efforts to catch offenders who are responsible for heavy losses in the normal revenue of the meters.
Up-island cities are also reporting the use of slugs in the meters has developed to considerable proportions in recent months and the question has arisen whether the slugs are not being specially made and distributed for this purpose. Police are investigating this angle of the problem which is growing in proportions every week.

In Victoria 10 parking meters on Langley and Bastion Streets were broken into and rifled of their money contents during the week-end. Meters in this part of town have been targets of thieves periodically for a long time.

The parking machines were in the news last week when a three-day investigation resulted in three citizens paying $1 fines each in city police court for using slugs in Johnson Street meters.
Deputy Chief of Police John D. Blackstock reported following this that hundreds of slugs had been collected by men servicing the meters in the downtown section.

In city police court Stipendiary Magistrate A. I. Thomas was strongly critical of a city by-law which "tied the hands of the court" in meting out punishment for convictions on this type of offence. He expressed the view the by-law should be amended to allow heavier penalties.

By-law provides for only a $1 fine for any first-offence conviction.
Acting Mayor Edward Williams termed the maximum $1 fine as "perfectly ridiculous," especially when the offence concerned businessmen.

Envoy Meets Stalin

MOSCOW (AP)—United States Ambassador Alan G. Kirk met tonight with Prime Minister Stalin in the Kremlin.

It was the first meeting between the new American envoy and the Soviet leader.
The call was described as a "courtesy visit." Kirk arrived in Moscow at the end of June.

Two New Polio Cases

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two new cases of polio were reported in Vancouver today, bringing to 88 the total treated in General Hospital since this year's outbreak began.

The first case this year from New Westminster—a 27-year-old woman—is one of the new victims. The second is a 24-year-old Lulu Island man.

Discovery of the bruised, unclothed body of a 24-year-old Yvonne Levesque of Fincher Creek, Alta., on the floor of the cabin last Thursday night touched off a widespread hunt for 33-year-old Donald W. Henderson.
The young brunette had left her job as an Edmonton waitress late last month to come here and marry Henderson, partner in a brush-cutting business in the Clive district for the last two years. She died from shock which resulted from a severe beating allegedly administered by Henderson.

Four hours after the girl's unconscious form was discovered, Henderson borrowed an automobile and $10 from a Calgary friend. Then he disappeared.
The SIO is believed to be the only money Henderson had in his possession and police said he could not have gone too far from Calgary without more cash. However, police throughout western Canada have been alerted to be on the watch for the fugitive and the car in which he is believed travelling.

Henderson made his escape Thursday night shortly after police arrived at the cabin camp to investigate a report that a woman had been injured. While one of the two investigating officers stayed with the woman and the other went out to phone for an ambulance, Henderson, who had been applying artificial

Marine Explorer Down 2,300 Feet When Lights Fail

SMUGGLER'S COVE, Calif. (AP)—Marine explorer Otis Barton descended into the ocean depths 2,300 feet today, then gave up attempting to reach a world record depth of 6,000 feet.

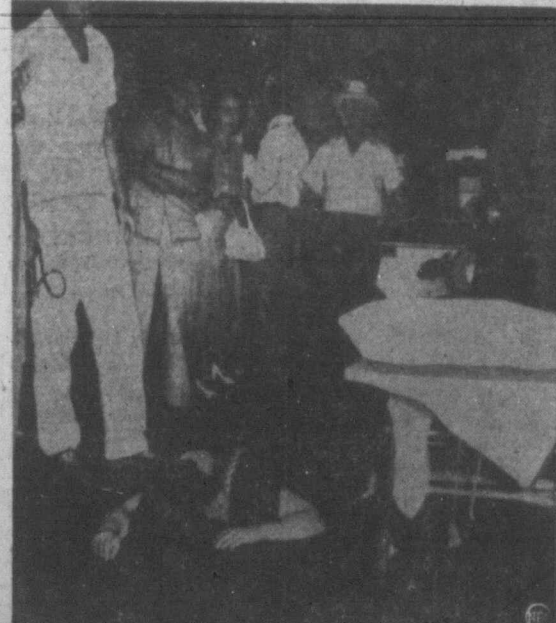

Generator trouble on the barge from which his steel sphere or bathyscope was lowered, left him without lights or power for a motion picture camera.
"There is no use continuing without lights," he telephoned his surface associate, Dr. Maurice Nelles. "It would be just a stunt without lights."

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—Body of John Sanborski, 54, was found today cemented into a shallow grave in the basement of his home here.
Provincial police said they had been asked by St. Catharines city police to investigate what "most certainly appears to be murder."
